

Idle Steelworkers Lose 253 Million; No Break In Sight

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — The great steel strike of 1952 already has cost Philip Murray's 650,000 idle steelworkers about 253 million dollars in wages.

As the strike goes into its 25th day with little sign of a break there are reports of increasing hardship from all sections of the country.

Layoffs Increase

Layoffs in allied industries are increasing almost hourly. It adds up to a creeping paralysis which slowly is readying a knockout blow at the nation's economy.

This is the picture:

Figuring the steelworkers' average pay at $1.95 an hour, each man on the basis of a 40-hour week, has lost around $390 in pay. It adds up to a staggering total in the neighborhood of $253 million dollars.

Other Industries Hit

Other workers who have been idled as a direct result of the strike have lost millions in pay.

In addition to the 650,000 striking steelworkers from coast to coast the latest survey shows that 216,320 workers in allied industries either have been laid off or ordered not to report for work after July 3.

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The steel strike was considered certain today to continue at least another week even if President Truman bowed to the will of Congress and asked a court to order the men back to work.

There was no firm indication, however, how the President would react to a yesterday's House request—paralleling a previous one from the Senate—that he use the Taft-Hartley Labor Law to end the crippling, 24-day strike.

Up To Truman

The walkout of more than 600,000 CIO steelworkers has already cost more than six million tons of steel.

The President had a chance to tip his hand at his weekly news conference today (3 p. m., EST). His last public comment on Taft-Hartley was a curt remark that Congress has no power to force its use. He also said, however, the use of the law always has been under consideration.

The law calls for a board of inquiry, appointed by the President,

Mexican Admits St. Louis Killing

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — A 23-year-old Mexican has admitted the brutal hotel room slaying of Mrs. Irene Thompson, an attractive 32-year-old mother.

Police Capt. John Buck reported last night Jose Romero had signed a statement saying he strangled Mrs. Thompson and left her partially nude body in a room at the Jefferson hotel.

Mrs. Thompson's body, clad only in panties, was found in the room Sunday. Her throat had been slashed with a broken bottle and an electric cord had been twisted around her neck.

Romero told of having been in a fight with another man over Mrs. Thompson last Friday and then visiting her hotel room later that night. He said she had screamed insults at him and lunged toward him with a desk pen.

Then, he told officers he twisted the cord around her neck and pulled it tight. They fell to the floor in the struggle, he added, and she fell on a broken bottle.

Romero met Mrs. Thompson, mother of a 2-year-old daughter, at a dancing studio where she was employed as an instructor. He surrendered to police yesterday on a warrant charging him with the slaying.

The dead woman's husband, William E. Thompson, who was out of town on a business trip at the time of the slaying, told a coroner's inquest that he knew of no admirers of his wife.

Texas Has Nearly 1,000 Polio Cases

AUSTIN, Tex. — (AP) — A spreading scourge of poliomyelitis kept Texans jittery today as the number of cases in the state approached 1,000.

The state department of health reported yesterday that 146 new cases were reported last week. It was a record of incidence for Texas as the week's reports boosted the 1952 total to 917.

Hardest hit was the Houston vicinity (Harris county) where 45 new cases were counted last week. Houston's hospitals are now treating 321 cases. Seven more were reported yesterday.

Other counties reporting cases last week included: Nueces (Corpus Christi) 11, Tarrant (Fort Worth) 10, Dallas 8, McLennan (Waco) 7, Travis (Austin) 7.

Submarine Surfaces To Save Two Airmen

SUNDERLAND, Eng. — (AP) — The British submarine Sirdar surfaced during maneuvers in the North Sea off here last night to rescue two crewmen from a Royal Air Force Shackleton bomber which exploded and dove into the sea.

One other member of the four-man crew was killed and a fourth was missing. The survivors, both injured, were transferred to a hospital.

The accident was the only serious mishap during the NATO maneuvers, operation castanets, in which 400 aircraft and 250 ships of nine nations had been taking part. The exercise ended last night.

Baby Eats $3,500

COPENHAGEN, Denmark — (AP) — A well-known Danish scientist, who requested anonymity, announced today that his daughter, aged 2, had eaten up a state lottery bond a few days before it drew a prize of 25,000 kroner (about $3,500). The Danish treasury, therefore, is that much richer.

Truman Requests Cut 25 Per Cent

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House appropriations committee recommended today a 25 per cent cut in new funds asked by the administration for the armed forces, foreign aid, atomic energy and a variety of other purposes.

In terms of cash, the purse-holding group's proposed reduction—which comes up for House action tomorrow and will be considered by the Senate later—was $3,467,554,500.

Mostly For Construction

The committee, headed by Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), said the agencies involved should get along on $10,283,780 instead of the $13,750,688,280 for which President Truman asked.

The money provided in today's bill is separate from regular budget appropriations already considered by Congress for the defense, foreign aid, atomic energy and a variety of other purposes.

The new funds supplement appropriations already considered for the coming year or actually made for the present year, and are primarily for construction programs.

Atomic Fund Slashed
No big agencies were spared the committee's cuts. The largest was a $1,706,000,000 reduction in funds for the atomic energy commission. This was 53 per cent less than the $3,191,000,000 requested.

The foreign aid program was chopped by $250,120,000, from $6,526,060,750 to $6,275,940,750.

The Defense Department which wanted $2,993,868,440 for its construction programs, was allotted $2,187,899,940, a cut of $805,968,500.

A group of defense agencies was trimmed from $661,610,000 to $498,711,000.

With the temperature at 97, nearly 29,000 workers either staged a heat strike or asked to be excused from work at Detroit plants. The steel shortage is expected to idle 30,000 Michigan auto workers by this weekend.

About 9,000 workers in Detroit asked and got permission from their bosses to lay off and seek relief from the blistering heat.

At the Chrysler Corp. Dodge main plant, 7,000 workers were excused by midafternoon after various groups had asked permission to leave.

Another 2,000 at the General Motors Diesel plant were allowed to go home at noon. Their shop committee asked management for permission to do this.

Groups of workers at other plants didn't bother to ask permission. They just walked off the job and the companies had to send home additional thousands.

Venezuela Breaks Off Relations With Russia

In Diplomatic Scrap

CARACAS, Venezuela — (AP) —

The 36-member staff of the Russian embassy sailed for home last night following a diplomatic squabble which resulted in Venezuela and Russia breaking off diplomatic relations.

The Soviets sailed on the French liner De Grasse, 12 days after the Venezuelans told them they must leave.

They left behind them two disgruntled Venezuelan carpenters who had helped them pack.

The carpenters complained the Russians refused to pay the bill for their work.

Venezuela's only representative in the Soviet capital, charge d'Affaires Luis M. Carrasquero, reached Leningrad Tuesday en route home.

Divorcee Convicted In Bedroom Bargain To Steal $1,500,000

By ED OLSEN

CARSON CITY, Nev. — (AP) — The French divorcee who pleaded that she made a bedroom bargain with millionaire La Vere Redfield to steal his $1,500,000 safe today faced five to 10 years in prison for directing that fantastic burglary.

A federal court jury yesterday found Mrs. Jeanne D'Arc Michaud, 36, guilty of carrying more than $147,000 of the loot across state lines.

The jury rejected the petite, dark-haired woman's contention that she gained Redfield's consent to the theft in a bedroom tryst at the millionaire's gloomy Reno mansion Dec. 28.

Blazing Sun Slows Business; Mercury Stays Around 100

(By The Associated Press)

June's blazing heat kept up its relentless siege over wide areas in the eastern half of the nation today.

Millions were limp from the hot and sticky weather. Nighttime brought little relief and it was difficult to sleep. Business slowed with a natural let-down by workers in the oppressive daytime heat.

Jokes On Weather Get No Laughs In Sweltering Cities

CHICAGO — (AP) — Everybody in the nation's heat belt talked about the weather. And such language! There were the old jokes and bromides about hot weather but nothing was funny to the sweltering millions. Cool was the watchword.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The gal workers at Cleveland city hall are not going to wear shorts, regardless of the sizzling weather. Mayor Thomas A. Burke so ruled yesterday after some of the girls had requested permission when thermometers bobbed to a bake-over 99. One city official had suggested that if the girls were allowed to wear shorts, male workers should wear blinders.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Don't

write your congressman about the hot weather. Many members of Congress—and President Truman were inconvenienced in yesterday's record 98 degree heat. There was no water. A giant water main burst, cutting off water to the White House and much of downtown Washington. Water was rationed at hotels. The air conditioning system was shut off in the White House but workers managed to get enough for the President's bath.

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — It was 100 above and no water for about 5,000 homes in St. Louis county yesterday. A connecting joint on a 36-inch transmission line blew out, cutting off the water supply.

TOLEDO, O. — (AP) — George Baker, 51, Richmond, Ind., a casket salesman, collapsed and died while displaying caskets to members of the Ohio Funeral Directors Association. It was 99 above.

FT. JACKSON, S. C. — (AP) — Pvt. Harold Kauffman of Cleveland collapsed on a rifle range and died from sunstroke and heart congestion. He was the second soldier at the fort to die from sunstroke in the last week.

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — The sun did a fadeout in Long Beach yesterday and put a chill on the parade of the prettiest girls of 30 nations competing for the title of Miss Universe. Most of the 70 candidates, 40 of them from the United States, were forced to don wraps over their bathing suits, hiding their charms from nearly 50,000 persons who lined the streets to watch the parade.

Coalition Picks July 31 As Date To End Controls

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The

House voted today to end federal rent controls on Sept. 30 except in critical defense areas and cities specifically requesting control.

The vote, subject to roll call reconsideration, was one more step toward final action on the administration's sharply reduced controls bill extender.

In areas designated as critical or in municipalities whose governing body requests, controls would be continued until March 31, 1953.

Stabilizer Protests
Rent stabilizer Tighe Woods said last month that to limit rent controls to critical defense areas could deal a knockout blow to the general over-all stabilization effort.

The rent decontrol provision was offered by Rep. Wheeler (D-Ga.) and adopted by a standing vote of 144 to 113.

Previously, the House beat 119 to 69, an amendment to end controls on June 30 of this year everywhere except in critical areas.

The present rent control law allows municipalities to retain federal controls unless they specifically request discontinuance. That law expires next Monday at midnight.

May Reverse Decision

After voting on the rent control amendment, the House agreed to end all debate on the bill before 2 p. m. (EST) and to start voting by roll call then on amendments.

Amendments tentatively approved would end all wage and price controls on July 31 and prohibit them even during July on goods and materials not rationed or allocated.

And administration leaders had little hope of restoring the major control powers peeled away by a coalition of Republicans and southern Democrats in a week of heated debate.

There was one exception: Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts told newsmen he thought the House might reverse yesterday's 118 to 87 decision to end

Flint Boy Shot In Deal For Gun

FLINT, Mich. — (AP) — A 15-year-old Flint boy was critically wounded early today while arguing with a Millington man about the purchase of a gun.

Shot in the groin by a bullet from a hunting rifle, Andrew Popovich of Flint was reported in critical condition in Hurley hospital.

Police held Carl W. Taylor, 29, of Millington in the Flint city jail for investigation of felonious assault.

State Police Sgt. Vincent Neering said Popovich and three other youths met Taylor at a service station last night. Taylor told them he had a 40-65 rifle for sale.

The group went to Taylor's house to look at the gun, Neering said, and Taylor fired it once over a tree in demonstration.

Back inside the house they began haggling over the price, the officer related.

He quoted Taylor as saying: "He (Popovich) was saying some nasty things I didn't like. While I was standing there holding the gun, one of the boys tapped me on the shoulder and I whirled around and pulled the trigger without realizing it was loaded."

The bullet passed through Popovich's body and through the wall of the house.

Flier In Korea Sees His Own Old Clothes Go To War Victims

NEW HOPE, Pa. — (AP) — A Marine corps pilot just back from Korea found his greatest thrill overseas when he saw some of his own civilian clothing in a package sent to help needy Koreans.

Capt. Antonio Grenados, returning home after 82 missions in Korea, yesterday told of this "greatest thrill":

"I wrote home last fall asking New Hope people to send clothes for Korean war orphans and homeless families. One day I went to Pohang to help distribute clothing sent from the United States. One parcel caught my eye.

"In it were two of my old summer suits, a lot of my wife's old dresses and some of our children's clothes which my wife had sent over.

"It was good to know that we were doing our part, too," he added.

Walkouts In Jet Plants Held Up

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Federal Mediator Cyrus S. Ching was expected to set a time and place today for talks aimed at heading off a threatened strike and keeping vital jet planes rolling off the production line.

Bowing to a government request, the United Auto Workers (CIO) late yesterday postponed a walkout, planned for last midnight, pending the outcome of federal mediation of its wage dispute with North American Aircraft Corp.

Involved are 25,000 workers at North American's four plants on the West Coast and in the Midwest. North American is the sole producer of the Korea-famed F-86 Sabre jet, which has top priority on the defense department urgency list.

Another strike, already crippling Sabre jet production, has been in progress a week. It involves 4,000 workers employed by General Electric Co., at its Lockland plant near Cincinnati. It makes engines for the North American Frames.

North American workers make an average base pay of $1.67½ cents an hour. They originally asked for a 28-cent-an-hour raise. North American offered five cents.

Would-Be Assassin Of Truman Goes To Death Chair Aug. 1

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Aug. 1 was set today as the execution date for Oscar Collazo, the Puerto Rican who tried to kill President Truman nearly 20 months ago. Collazo, unsuccessful in appeal from conviction of murder of a White House guard, was brought into U. S. district court and told of the time fixed for him to die in the electric chair. Only President Truman now could save Collazo.

Sen. Taft Can't Win, Says Aide To Eisenhower

(By The Associated Press)

While one of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's aides said "the jig is up" for Sen. Robert Taft, another reported today Eisenhower will go to the Republican convention to direct his campaign for presidential nomination.

The "jig is up" quote came from Eisenhower's campaign manager, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, who flew to Denver yesterday for a conference with the retired five-star general.

It was quickly attacked by Taft's campaign manager, David Ingalls, who said bluntly: "It just isn't so."

Score 483 To 405

The report that Eisenhower has decided to take on the spot charge of his bid at the July 7 GOP convention came from a source in his headquarters. The source declined to be named and would not say when Eisenhower planned to head for Chicago.

The Associated Press tabulation of the pre-convention delegate strength, with all 1,206 delegates named, now shows Taft has the support of 483 to Eisenhower's 405. Others have a total of 129 and there are 189 in dispute or uncommitted.

This tabulation, like that in the Democratic race, is based on avowed and conceded alignments. It often conflicts with claims of the candidates themselves. Taft, for example, says he already has the majority required for nomination—604 votes—and Lodge says Eisenhower will get more than 500 on the first ballot at Chicago.

Parallel Parking On Entire Street Asked

A revised proposal to experiment with parallel parking on the entire length of Ludington Street will be submitted to the City Council after local retail merchants agreed with the Citizens Advisory Group last night that this is the only way in which a sound judgment of the plan can be gained.

The safety council meeting last night was held in conjunction with members of the Chamber of Commerce who were invited to give their reason for opposition to the parallel parking that the council feels would contribute to a reduction of traffic accidents on Ludington Street.

Businessmen previously voiced objection to a safety council resolution approved by the City Council to conduct a trial of parallel parking on the 1300 and 1400 blocks of Ludington Street.

Chamber Will Consider
While the safety group is formalizing its altered resolution for the City Council, representatives of the committee will meet with the Chamber of Commerce to get the reactions of a larger number of retailers than appeared at the meeting last night.

Five Ludington Street businessmen responded last night to the council's invitation to discuss the plan but refrained from approving a parallel parking experiment because, they claimed, they were unempowered to act on behalf of the entire Chamber of Commerce.

They, however, individually agreed that if the experiment were tried, it should be conducted on the whole of the city's main thoroughfare in the business district.

Safety group chairman Mrs. Oliver Fuller then asked the retailers for their feelings on such a proposal being embodied in a new resolution to be submitted to the City Council. After their acquiescence to the motion, one of the retailers stated that since they were not officially representing the Chamber of Commerce, a meeting of the Chamber would be necessary and suggested that delegates of the safety council be present at it to answer questions and explain the group's viewpoint.

Safety Only Consideration
After that meeting, spokesmen for the Chamber can appear at the City Council session when it acts on the resolution.

Expressing the safety council's view on parallel parking at the opening of last evening's session, Mrs. Fuller pointed out that the committee, representing all social and professional groups in the city, was interested only in greater safety of the members of the community.

Their standpoint on the parallel parking plan, she stated, was the result of study and consideration of methods in which to reduce the number of traffic accidents on Ludington Street directly attributable to angle parking. (Safety Director Glen S. Leonard, an ex-officio member of the group, pointed out that 35 mishaps on Ludington were definitely known to be caused by angle parking since Jan. 1.)

The safety board wished to meet, she said, with the merchants who seemed to be opposed to parallel parking and to find their reasons for their objection.

"We also wanted to learn any other solution they might have on reducing these Ludington Street accidents," Mrs. Fuller said.

Little Loss Of Space
The general feeling of the businessmen was that, in their opinion, parallel parking would not necessarily answer the accident-reduction need and would moreover, reduce the number of parking spaces available for their customers.

Leonard then pointed out that only three spaces on each side of the street would be eliminated in the conversion from the present to the proposed system. Parallel parking will accommodate 13 cars in one side of one block, while angle parking now makes room for 16 cars. For these eliminated cars, he said, the city owns parking lots which can supply needed parking space.

Answering a question of one of the merchants that parallel parking will lead to parking meters, Mrs. Fuller emphasized that the committee had given no thought to establishing parking meters and was not interested in installing them.

"Our first concern has always been public safety," she said.

After deciding to go ahead with formulating a resolution for experimental parallel parking while the Chamber of Commerce studies the issue again, Mrs. Fuller stated that "The main hurdle we covered in the meeting was that since no other solution to the problem was presented and none seemed to be forthcoming, the experiment should definitely be tried."

City councilman Jacob Bink reassured the retailers that if at the end of the experiment, majority opposition to parallel parking were found, the City Council could be appealed in open session.

"The Council will follow the wishes of the community after the trial which will be solely an experiment," he said.

"The safety council's resolution will probably ask for an experimental period of six months.

Retail merchants present at the meeting last night were James Jackson, Robert Mosenfelder, Fred Saykly, Walter Pearson, and Ralph Schaffler and a Ludington Street property owner, Charles Gunderson.

WHERE TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS OCCUR—Safety director Glen S. Leonard shows areas of high motor accident incidence to those attending last night's meeting on proposed parallel parking on Ludington Street. Leonard said that present angle parking on Ludington Street was directly accountable for 35 of 112 non-intersection accidents on the city's main business street since January 1. The Citizens Advisory Committee is proposing a new system of parallel parking on the street to help reduce the number of accidents which occur on the thoroughfare. Rock Youth, 16, Drowns In Tragedy At Meal Lake Becoming exhausted while swimming in Meal Lake near the town of Little Lake, Francis Ronald Bazinet, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bazinet of Rock, drowned yesterday at 3:30 p. m. despite rescue efforts of two teenage companions.

The tragedy occurred while the three young men were swimming a deep channel between the shore and a small island.

With Bazinet were Robert Koski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Koski of Rock, and Kenneth Rogers, son of George Rogers, Detroit, who is visiting the Koski home.

Rescue Efforts Fail
The three had gone to Meal Lake to swim in the afternoon. The lake is located near the town of Little Lake, a few miles from Gwinn in Marquette county.

Koski and Rogers said they were nearing the island and were within a few feet of shallow water when Bazinet became exhausted. They encouraged him and suggested he swim on his back and rest and that he could make it.

Suddenly and almost without warning Bazinet slipped down into the water. The other boys of a 7 pound, 10 ounce son born June 25 at St. Francis Hospital. The baby's name is James Russell.

tried to assist him but were unable to raise him to the surface and his body sank to the bottom in about 15 feet of water.

It was the first drowning of the season in this area. The body was not immediately recovered because of the depth of the water.

Funeral Is Monday

Francis Ronald Bazinet was born in Escanaba July 15, 1935, and had resided in Rock throughout his lifetime. He was a Junior at Rock High School and a member of C. Y. O.

Surviving besides his parents are three brothers, 2nd Lt. Lester Bazinet, serving with the U. S. Marines in Korea; Cpl. Gerald Bazinet, Las Cruces, N. M., who was recently home on leave; and Archie Jr., Rock.

John T. Jugo, 25, Killed In Mishap

A highway accident near Monroe in Lower Michigan brought instantaneous death yesterday to John T. Jugo, former Gladstone youth and high school athletic star.

The young man, employed as a truck driver out of Detroit, was delivering a load of steel from New York to Detroit when a farmer-driven combine-bailer moved off a side road in front of his truck on US-24 north of Monroe. As he swerved to avoid hitting the implement, Jugo was thrown out of the cab and caught under the truck when it overturned.

He was born March 2, 1927, in Gladstone, attended All Saints' School and was graduated in 1945 from Gladstone High School. A leading athlete in his high school years, he was a member of the basketball team three years and of the football squad in his junior and senior years.

After graduation he enlisted in the United States Navy where he served for three years, with duty part of that time on the USS Mississippi. He returned to Gladstone after separation from the service and was employed as a truck driver for a dry cleaning firm. He has been employed in Detroit for the past two years.

Surviving him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Jugo, a brother and sister, Alfred and Anna, all of Gladstone, and two older brothers, Rudolph and Stanley.

The body will be brought to the Skradski Funeral Home to be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

The body is at the Allo funeral home in Escanaba and will be removed to the Francis Trombley home at Rock at 3 p. m. Sunday. Funeral services will be held Monday at 9 a. m. in Sacred Heart Church at Rock with the Rev. Fr. Charles W. Daniel officiating. Burial will be in the Rock cemetery.

Inflation Real Danger---Alger

Fred M. Alger, secretary of state, and a Republican candidate for governor revealed to Escanabans Wednesday what he termed "a new formula for political campaigning."

Instead of picking a subject himself and hurling it at an audience, Alger explained he is now letting the listeners select the topics. The idea was given its first try-out in Marquette Tuesday. It worked so well, Alger says he proposes to follow it through the remainder of his campaign.

SCHEDULE CHANGED
Fred Alger's scheduled appearance at Manistique Saturday has been cancelled because Mr. Alger has been called to the Lower Peninsula on urgent business, it was announced today.

These are the subjects which Upper Peninsula voters proposed for discussion, according to Alger: Mackinac Straits bridge, streamlining state government, highway development, reapportionment, balanced budget, and tourist and resort promotion. Disposing of them in the order named, Alger stated:

"The bridge across the straits is not a political issue. The benefits it will bring to the Upper Peninsula transcend any thought of political advantage. The bridge is feasible from both an engineering and a financial standpoint. The only thing that can stop it is a continuance of the present inflationary trend. Whether it be underwritten by the government or by private interests, the $85,000,000 investment would not be a sound one if it were floated with inflated dollars, which afterwards turned out to be worth half that much."

On streamlining the government, Alger asserted that some proposals which looked good on paper were impractical when actually tried out. "We are collecting gas and motor vehicle sales taxes in my department at a cost of about 19 cents per $100 of collections," he continued. "The average cost of the department of public revenue for collecting sales taxes is around 70 cents. Yet, the Little Hoover commission wants to transfer these duties from the department of state to the revenue department. Someone will have to show me it is good public policy to pay 70 cents for a job now being done for 19 cents, before I agree to such a change."

He also charged that the commission's proposal to place all administrative appointments in the hands of the governor, eliminating elections by the people, "would carry us along the road to dictatorship."

The Governor, he said, had no authority over the highway department.

On reapportionment he favored the so-called Senate Joint Resolution "A" plan, which would maintain the area basis for the senate, freezing in present senatorial districts, but adding one each for Macomb and Oakland counties; while the House would be reapportioned on a population basis, with a moiety clause that would protect sparsely settled areas from being deprived of representation.

"Balancing the budget is simply keeping expenditures within revenue," said Alger. "It is the only way you can ward off new taxes or prevent the state from going deeper into debt. This means that if we cannot afford it, certain non-essential services will have to be curtailed or suspended, until such time as the state's finances are stabilized."

"Such steps would not be popular. From a strictly political standpoint, they might prove suicidal, because lots of people are strong for economy, so long as it does not affect their particular interests. The next governor of the state must be a man possessing the courage to make the

Truman And Murray Dance Well, But Out Of Step With Nation

WHAT President Truman hopes to gain by his merrily unrestrained dance with the steelworkers union while the nation pays the fiddler is a question that only the President can answer.

Certainly the flirtation is a dangerous one for the country—and it may cost the Democratic party prestige which it cannot afford to lose.

Latest development in the mad whirl of the dance is the request of the House, joined with an earlier request of the Senate, that President Truman invoke the Taft-Hartley Act to try to stop the steel strike.

This the President previously refused to do, but he did promise that he might use the Taft-Hartley Law—although he said he didn't think it would work. If this appears to be contradictory, the explanation is that the President likes to call his own tunes, when he wants to call them.

By publicly stating that he does not believe the steelworkers union will observe the law, the President is inviting the union not to observe it. If he had said that he expected the union to observe the law it is possible, of course, that he would have fallen out of step with his dancing partner, CIO steelworkers boss Phil Murray.

Undoubtedly the President believes it is better to keep on dancing than to try to stop, for he might then step on his partner's toes. Mr. Murray might not understand. There could be a most embarrassing situation, right out in front of everyone.

The President is more abrupt on other occasions, however, as he has revealed in his illegal crackdown on the steel industry. He neither waited for the Senate, the House or the Courts to request seizure of the steel plants. He was a man of action—unconstitutional though that action was.

Now with the law to back him and the majority of congressional leaders urging action in the use of the Taft-Hartley Act, the President is peculiarly reluctant.

Obviously he is in close harmony with the steelworkers union and completely out of step with the sentiment of the nation. If it were not for steel shortages, unemployment, and the lag in defense production the situation would have ridiculous aspects.

As it stands, however, the President is revealed as a man who will never relinquish an old friend, no matter at what cost to the country. Only alternative for the House and Senate is to change "request" to "demand." Then the President might invoke the law, stop dancing in the spotlight, and sit one out.

A Fine Project For Escanaba's Youngsters

LAST year Karl Dickson, young Escanaba businessman, was selected as the city's Young Man of the Year in recognition for his community service, particularly in creating baseball's Little League in Escanaba and in promoting it to outstanding success.

Dickson is ineligible for the honor this year, so we think it is fitting and proper to call the public's attention at this time to the tremendous job that Dickson is doing in creating a whole new baseball park in Escanaba for the Little League. The project involves considerable planning, a lot of hard work and the generous assistance of many people to accomplish the job without funds.

It is proper to bring this subject before the Escanaba public at this time because, even acknowledging the accomplishments already made in building this new ball park, more assistance is needed—and it is needed now. A lot of volunteer labor is required to complete the construction of the infield and the outfield, the completion of the fence, the erection of backstops, etc.

The target date for opening of the new park is July 4—only a week away. Bring a rake or a hammer—and a friend with a rake or hammer—to the Little League diamond, at the Water Tower site, and help with this important project for Escanaba's baseball youngsters.

Or if you can't assist in this way, call Karl Dickson, phone 1061, and ask how you may be able to help with this project.

SOME WILL DIE (Iron Mountain News)

It's swimming time again, and it is a rare season, indeed, that passes without one or more fatalities in this area—or in any area where there are lakes and streams open to young swimmers. It is not too early, therefore, for our annual word of caution.

Antoine beach is probably the most popular and large-attended swimming center in this area and the vanguard of youngsters has already checked in, complete with all the usual paraphernalia for the sport. There are life-guards at Antoine but, as we said here a year ago, they are responsible for a wide sweep of beach and they can't be, or see, everywhere at once. Also as we said before, they are not baby-sitters and they cannot devote any considerable time to any one child or group of children.

Parents or other older persons should accept full responsibility for youngsters whom they send to the beaches, or whom they permit to go swimming anywhere in the area. It is deep tragedy when a child is lost by drowning, because more often than not the child was swimming where he (or she) was not supposed to be, or got into trouble because no older person was on hand at the time.

Life-guards will do all that they can to avoid accident, but since very small children have as much hankering to get into the water as the older ones, there is always a special risk and hazard. And accidents generally happen in the flash of a second. Don't let your child go out to an unguarded lake or river, to swim. Be sure you know where he is going, and who is going with him. Be sure there are other swimmers in his group, and at least one good one. Then tell him to stick with his group when he is in the water.

A live wire has the best chance to live brightly, says a banker. Don't good connections have anything to do with it?

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The State Department has struck a snag with Dictator Franco of Spain regarding the much-discussed naval and air bases he was supposed to give U. S. forces in return for the $187,000,000 which Congress voted him.

When Ambassador Stanton Griffis discussed bases with Franco, about a year ago, he was effective in his anxiety to do anything the United States wanted. In fact it was Franco who took the initiative in wanting American cash and there seemed to be nothing he wouldn't do in return.

Now, however, he is just the opposite. He wants American dollars to be spent in Spain only on his own terms.

Specifically, the difference with Franco boils down to the fact that the U. S. Navy and Air Force want bases in Spain, while Franco wants modern military equipment for the Spanish army.

However, the tanks and heavy armor which he demands happen to be the things which the U. S. Army is short of. Priority on this equipment goes 1st to Korea, 2nd to U. S. forces in this country, 3rd to NATO allies in West Europe. Defense officials argue that to give Franco modern army equipment before we send it to France, Italy, Belgium, and other non-Fascist allies would cause a furore in Western Europe. We are already far behind in our promises to them.

Furthermore, defense officials point out that they aren't much interested in the Spanish army anyway. Located on the Southern tip end of Europe, it would be of no help in stopping the onrush of the Red army over France and Belgium to the English Channel. What they are interested in instead is air and naval bases in Spain. And regarding these, Franco now seems much less enthusiastic.

Franco hasn't said so in so many words, but he seems to want the latest $100,000,000 voted by Congress more or less with no strings attached.

WHAT U. S. WANTS

Meanwhile, the State Department has been engaged in a lengthy painstaking negotiation with Spain for the following:

1. Air and naval bases.
2. A technical aid agreement by which the United States would supply technicians for the improvement of Spanish agriculture, public health, etc.
3. Anti-discrimination against American investors. At present Franco has strict laws against foreign capital, and so far has not been willing to change them.

Negotiations for the above have now dragged on for three to four months. But whereas the Spanish dictator was practically kissing Ambassador Griffis before the $100,000,000 was voted, now all he wants to kiss is the $100,000,000.

However, Congress voted that this was to be spent at the discretion of the President, and both the State Department and the defense department have advised going slow.

Franco lobbyists and friends in Congress are now pressuring to get the $100,000,000 spent right away, without the commitments demanded by the State Department.

EISENHOWER ERRORS

Political observers watching the struggle of General Eisenhower to become a professional politician overnight wish that the men around him had more political savvy.

Two tactical boners which seriously hurt Ike's bargaining power could easily have been prevented.

Boner No. 1 was Ike's statement endorsing MacArthur at his Abilene press conference. This automatically destroyed Eisenhower's bargaining power when Taft forces proposed MacArthur as keynote speaker. Eisenhower representatives were thunderstruck at the idea of having Ike's bitter army critic as keynote speaker. But since their chief had referred to MacArthur so glowingly at Abilene, the ground was cut out from under them in voicing much opposition to MacArthur at Chicago.

Boner No. 2 was Eisenhower's statement in Dallas that he would lead no third party. While it was undoubtedly true that Ike intends to lead no third party, nevertheless his chief bargaining power in forcing Taft leaders to seat his delegates is the threat of a third party.

Yet Ike threw that threat away. Had William Howard Taft, father of the senator, known that Teddy Roosevelt would form the Bull Moose party as an aftermath of the delegate ruckus at the Chicago convention of 1912, Teddy would have had more delegates seated in that convention.

Today, Bob Taft knows from his father's experience, that he cannot afford to third party movement. The threat of such a movement brings heart failure to his cohorts. Some of Eisenhower's leaders, knowing this, had been dropping hints of a third party walkout. Whereupon their chief, General Ike, chucked this bargaining power out the window.

Franklin Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge, and Harry Truman, all master political strategists, never would have been caught making an error like this.

Atomic Shells For Battleships Is Latest U. S. Nuclear Weapon

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A brand new type of A-bomb is being added to America's fast growing arsenal of nuclear weapons.

It is an atomic shell which can be fired from the big guns of battleships.

The development brings the coast lines and key port cities of every Communist country in the world into easier range of America's atomic bombs in case of war.

The big advantage of the shell over an A-bomb dropped by airplane is the same as that of the Army's new atomic artillery. It is far more accurate and can be delivered to an enemy in any kind of weather.

The significance of this latest development in nuclear weapons is that it will give U. S. forces a 100 per cent potential in all-weather atomic strikes from air, land and sea.

Details of the battleship atomic shell are top secret, as is the progress of its development and testing. However, a Navy spokesman admits that it should be perfectly obvious that with the Army's announced development of an atomic shell for a field piece, the Navy would be working on such a projectile for its big guns.

Ordinance experts agree the actual firing of an atomic shell from a battleship presents no more technical difficulties than the firing of one from an Army cannon.

The Army's atomic shell is a little larger in diameter than 11 inches. The big guns of a battleship fire a shell 16 inches in diameter. This actually made the design of an atomic shell for the Navy easier than the Army's job.

The size of the Army's shell was limited by ordinance factors. A shell much bigger than 11 inches would have required a cannon so large and heavy it couldn't have been easily transported. The one the Army ordinance experts came up with can be moved at a speed of 35-miles-per-hour along ordinary highways.

With 16-inch guns already mounted on battleships, it's possible that the Navy didn't even have to design a basically new shell casing.

Based on the smaller size of the Army's shell, it is obvious that the Navy ordinance people would have little difficulty fitting the nuclear charge into a shell with a much larger diameter. It is also believed likely that the Navy's atomic shell can be fired from the battleship with no modifications to the turret or to the gun itself.

That is, unless the Navy will seek to increase the range of its 16-inch gun drastically. It normally fires its projectile about 20 miles, and with extreme accuracy. Navy experts see many uses for the new shell. It obviously enhances the role of the battleship, which, since World War I, has been fading in importance. There are now four battleships in commission, the Missouri, the New Jersey, the Iowa and the Wisconsin.

Carrying atomic shells, and strategically-placed around the world, the big battle wagons would be constant threat to enemy shore and ports if a war was declared. Bad weather would never be a deterrent to the battleship as it is to airplanes. And ship shelling is far more accurate than bombing from a plane.

BIG GUNS OF THE "BIG MO," shown here in action off Korea with conventional 16-inch shells, could be the means of firing the newest atomic weapon—an A-shell for battleships.

Other uses would be in the pre-invasion shelling for a Marine amphibious operation, or against enemy submarine pens. A few atomic shells could accomplish as much as many hours of shelling by a whole fleet with ordinary TNT. One atomic shell in a submarine pen could wipe it out or neutralize it.

There is a top secret stamp on many other plans for the use of an atomic shell by a battleship.

While this development is being rushed, the Navy is also busy converting two cruisers for use as guided missile ships and is working on a program to fit atomic warheads in those guided missiles.

Motels Ready To Lure 600 Million Motorists

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—More U. S. motorists will spend more nights in more motel rooms this Summer than ever before.

And they're going to enjoy their roadside rest and relaxation more than ever, too, according to the U. S. Rating Bureau.

In the past few years the country's highway haciendas have been getting plushier and plushier, putting the small town hotels in the flop-house category, by comparison.

This Summer American tourists will find more and more motels with swimming pools, restaurants and air conditioning as part of the 'overnight comforts. Practically all of them provide free ice for the thirsty guests. Many have adopted the practice of giving free coffee or tea in the morning, or even a continental breakfast which consists of a heated sweet roll, butter and coffee.

Approximately 45,000 tourist courts in the country will be open for business this Summer. California has the most with 7500.

The U. S. Rating Bureau which provides this good news for tourists has just been founded by Howard Bonham, a former hotel man and also a former national American Red Cross official. He got the idea for the organization traveling to and from so many Good Evening...

PAINLESS PREVENTION—If dentists and doctors announced the discovery of a compound which would prevent tooth decay there would be an immediate rush for its purchase at the corner drug store.

The public is peculiar, however, and sometimes reacts the other way when medical and dental science approve the addition of a tooth decay retarding compound to the local water supply.

"They're not going to start adding chemicals to our drinking water—there's enough in it already!" some people will protest.

While it is sometimes true that what the people do not know will not hurt them, it is also true (in the case of adding fluorine to municipal water supplies) that what they know about fluoridation will do them good.

HOW IT WORKS—Fluorides are found naturally present in waters that flow through sandstone and limestone formations.

Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee Health District, points out that fluorine in the amount of one part per million parts of water is naturally present in a spring at Ford River, and a well at Garden.

Usually, however, there is varying concentration in natural waters, either above or below the desirable one part per million.

Discovery that enamel of the teeth became mottled when fluorine was present in excess of 1.5 ppm, led originally to research in methods of eliminating the fluorine.

Yet fluorine exerts a protective influence against tooth decay and no mottling or other ill effect appears when the fluorine content is 1 ppm.

IT IS BENEFICIAL—While it is not clearly understood how fluorine acts to protect the teeth against decay, its beneficial effect has been well established.

The evidence shows that the greatest benefits accrue during the years of a child's life up to eight—the years of enamel development and calcification.

This suggests that the fluoride ion is incorporated into the enamel, making the enamel harder and more resistant. It is also known that fluorine is an enzyme inhibitor and may reduce organic acid production in the mouth.

Frequent bathing of the teeth by fluoridated water shows some benefit for older children, suggesting that fluoride is absorbed on the surface of the teeth with the same beneficial effects.

AND NOT HARMFUL—Even with higher concentrations of fluorine in water above 1 ppm, no ill effects, other than mottling of the teeth has been noted in studies made in several sections of the nation where fluorine occurs naturally in water supplies.

Fluorine adds no taste, color or odor to the water; it does not make the water unsuitable for bottlers, bakeries or breweries; it does not adversely affect humans and it definitely does not "make bones brittle." Gold fish and guppies in home aquariums live comfortably in fluoridated water.

In studies nationally it has been shown, however, that tooth decay among children in the one-through-eight age bracket is reduced two-thirds by using fluoridated water over a period of years.

GENERALLY ACCEPTED—State and national medical and dental societies have approved fluoridation; state health departments and the U. S. Public Health Service approves; and the number of cities across the land adopting fluoridation is growing.

Gladstone is the latest city in the U. P. to go on the fluorine wagon, and like other cities was influenced in its decision by the low cost of the program. Equipment costs about $3,000 and the compound costs about 10 cents per capita—far less expensive and certainly less uncomfortable than a decayed molar.

Charles R. Cox and David B. Ast, two authorities writing in the Journal of the American Water Works Association, sum up fluoridation with the statement: "If, through the relatively simple and inexpensive process of water fluoridation, an almost universal disease can be controlled, why delay any longer?"

Power With Words

OLD-FASHIONED AND OUT OF DATE

In speaking of customs, laws, words, machinery, and the like it is well to know whether to call them obsolete, archaic, or merely out of date. All mean out of date, but out of date by varying degrees. Perhaps the automobile will supply illustrations.

The first car I ever rode in, fifty years ago, was a Stanley steamer. Before it could be started, a fire had to be lit so as to generate steam to operate the pistons. That type of car has passed completely out of use, nothing similar is being made. The few that may still be in existence are retained only as curios. That is, the Stanley steamer is obsolete (OB-so-LEET); it has passed wholly out of practical use. The wearing of knickerbockers or golf trousers by men, current forty years ago, is now obsolete. The spelling, poverty for poverty is now obsolete. Yfallen is an obsolete form of fallen.

Prior to 1929 the Model T Ford car covered the land. Its manufacture was discontinued, but some of the cars themselves were in operation for many years and may still be, and the old axles and wheels still do duty on home-built farm wagons or the like. This antiquated car, no longer built, but still performing service, may be called archaic (ar-KAY-ik), a word from Greek archaion, ancient. Many of the words in the English Bible are archaic; that is, they have passed out of use in ordinary speech, but are familiar to us through biblical use.

Machinery becomes obsolescent when, though still serviceable, it must soon be replaced. Laws are obsolescent that, though still on the books, are no longer enforced. And, in language, slang speedily becomes obsolescent.

Are You Registered To Vote In Elections?

THE Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce did a marvelous job in past elections promoting voting registrations and encouraging registered voters to cast their ballots on election day.

It is encouraging to note that the Jaycees are active on this project again this year. The deadline for registrations for the August primary election is July 7. That's less than two weeks away.

Hundreds of Escanaba voters were removed from the registration lists for failure to vote within the past two years. These people will not be eligible to vote in the important elections coming up unless they register in advance of the deadline. If you are one of those notified that your registration has been cancelled, take care of that situation promptly. Get over to the city hall and register. Don't put it off because you may forget it entirely and then you'll be chagrined when you go to vote on election day and learn that you are ineligible.

The Jaycees have indicated that they will have registration booths on Ludington Street at least two nights before the July 7 deadline. You can register there, but it's better to do it at the city hall now. The J-C booth is designed as a means of emphasizing the importance of registering.

The upcoming elections are of great importance to the people of our nation, state and county. Be an active participant in democracy by registering now and by voting in the elections.

The Doctor Says... Weil's Disease Is Our Reason To Wage Constant Rat War

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

For anyone who hates rats as much as I do, it is a pleasure to comply with Mrs. R's request to discuss Weil's disease.

This is much more a disease of rat than it is of human beings, but in rats the disease can last for a long time, and these pests then can become a source of danger to human beings.

The germ which causes Weil's disease is excreted in the urine of infected rats, and therefore sewer workers, coal miners, ditch diggers, fish cutters, or any others who work in damp places infested by rats are liable to catch the disease.

Indeed, there have been a number of cases of human disease acquired by swimming in contaminated ponds or canals.

Like other germ diseases of mankind, there is an interval between infection and the appearance of the first symptom which is usually about eight to 12 days. Once this period has passed, signs of the disease come on rapidly, usually with chills and fever. Headache, pains in the muscles, and sometimes disturbances in the digestive tract or other evidences of illness are frequent. There are a number of unpleasant complications of the disease also, and about one person in 20 who has a severe attack dies from the disease.

It is important that an early and correct diagnosis of Weil's disease be made, and this is not always easy because it resembles other acute infections, and since it is not exactly common, a problem in diagnosis is often present.

DRUG CURE NOT COMPLETE

Furthermore, treatment is not thoroughly satisfactory, even when given early. Both penicillin and aureomycin are used, but their effectiveness in cure is not complete.

Weil's disease is another example of a condition about which one heard very little a few years ago, but which seems to be becoming somewhat more common. Perhaps the most important thing about it is that it provides one more reason for man to wage unceasing warfare on rats.

Listing Of Idle Plants Is Urged

MARQUETTE, Mich. — Unused industrial plant space should be listed with the Michigan Department of Economic Development to get such information before potential "buyers," the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau urges.

The plea for more listings of idle Upper Peninsula plants follows the Bureau's publication a month ago of the department's "available plant summary."

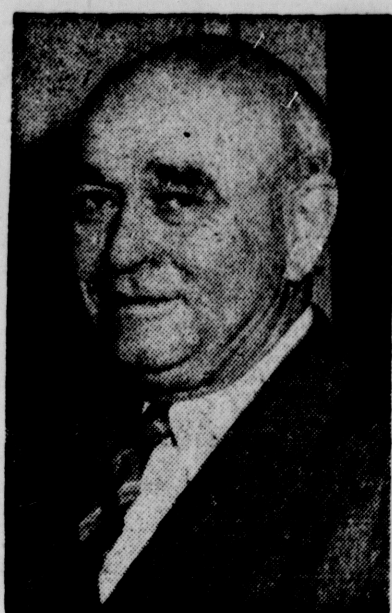

According to that summary, more than half of the available industrial space in the peninsula is at Iron Mountain-Kingsford, where the Kingsford Chemical Company offers 500,000 square feet of space. Twenty-four plants, ranging in size from 1,000 to 50,000 square feet, comprised the remaining 300,000 feet listed in 15 other communities.

Manufacturers thinking of moving their operations are especially interested in single-story plants enclosing 20,000 to 50,000 square feet, according to information from the Department of Economic Development. The department now is canvassing key agencies and individuals in the U. P. in an effort to expand the listing of such desirable space in its third quarter "available plant summary," scheduled for release in July.

Plant descriptions sent to the department, whose office is at 422 West Michigan Avenue, Lansing, Michigan should include data on the type of construction, number of floors, ceiling heights, floor loads, lifting equipment, office space, waste disposal, heating, lighting, power, fire protection, transportation facilities, owner's name and address and all other pertinent information.

Activating Reserve Unit Here Studied; Meeting Tonight

The proposal of organizing an Army reserve unit in Escanaba will be studied tonight in meeting of all interested men in the City Hall at 7:30 p. m.

City controller Al Lawrence has notified all reservists in the area that on the approval of the Michigan Organized Reserve Corps, a Headquarters and Headquarters company of a medical battalion can be activated here if there are a sufficient number of personnel available.

Membership and training in the reserve unit will bring points toward the Army retirement plan and training drills will carry financial benefits. Lawrence pointed out. Twenty-four meetings a year would be scheduled.

World War II veterans and young men who have had no military experience are both eligible for membership in the unit. Adequate quarters and necessary equipment will be available if the unit is organized.

Employees Of Bell Buy Company Stock

Michigan Bell Telephone Company employees who are buying American Telephone and Telegraph Company stock, under the latest of a series of employees' stock plans, will wind up their payments this month.

When they do, more than 13,000 Michigan Bell men and women will have paid $10-million for 8,000 shares of the stock, according to G. A. Marcouiller, manager here for Michigan Bell.

"These installment payments, in the form of payroll deductions, began in April, 1950," he explained. "Then, eligible employees were permitted to buy one share of stock for each $1,000 of their individual annual basic wage."

"Cancellation released additional shares which could be subscribed in March of 1951 and a year later."

Stockholders at AT&T approved a company-wide offering of stocks for the first time in 1946. A second offering in 1948 preceded the subscription authorized in 1950.

The Securities and Exchange commission has approved a further offering of up to three-million shares of telephone stock to employees of the Bell System. The new offering will go before the employees next month.

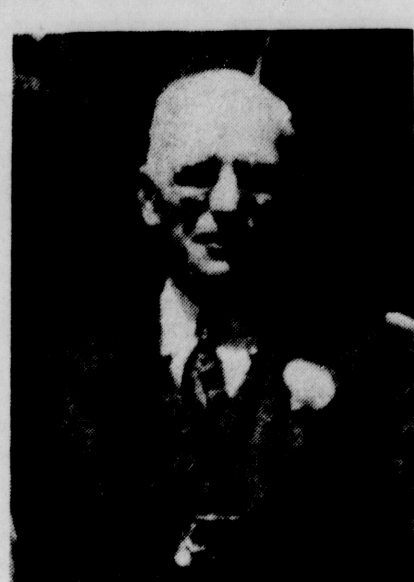

Women Migrating To British Shores

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — (AP) — Young New Zealand women are embarking on an unprecedented migration to Britain.

Shipping officials say girls in their 20s and early 30s are forming the largest group of passengers in outgoing liners.

Many of the cheaper cabins are shared by groups of young women bound for working holidays in Britain. For the most part they are working girls of good education who have saved for years for this opportunity of seeing something of the world.

Seymour Rites Held At Grand Marais

FLOYD JOHN SEYMOUR

Funeral services for Floyd John Seymour, widely known resident of Grand Marais, who died June 23, were held at Holy Rosary Church Wednesday with the Rev. Casimir Mark officiating. Burial was in Grand Marais cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Seymour are his wife, Emma of Grand Marais, two sisters, Mrs. Rose Miron of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and Mrs. Amelia Collins of Detroit, and four brothers, Joseph, Arthur, and Alfred of Detroit and Phillip of Akron, O.

Mr. Seymour was born Feb. 1b, 1875 in St. Louis, Quebec, and he came to Grand Marais in 1891. He moved to Detroit in 1911 and after thirty years with the Packard Motor Company retired and moved back to Grand Marais. He married the former Emma McDonald June 22, 1949.

He was a member of the Holy Name Society for many years and was very active in church affairs. He also served as justice of the peace in this community for many years.

Out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were Mrs. Rose Miron and sons Ted, Floyd, and Albert of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Mrs. Amelia Collins and Arthur Seymour of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald and Dolores Ann McDonald of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell of Newberry.

Holy Name men serving as pallbearers at the services were Ora Endress, Levi Meullier, Henry Pettipren, Charles Bleckner, Louis Roberts and Claude McLean. Many out-of-town friends attended the funeral.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Holger Rasmussen and children of Marlette, Mich., were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Armas Abrahamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Arnde and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rood of Ellsworth enjoyed a few days here lake trout trolling.

Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hildebrand of Los Angeles are spending sometime here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Walsh of Utica, former Grand Marais

High School principal, visited here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tullock.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Silberhorn and Gene and Lee of Riga, Mich., are vacationing here.

Mrs. Anna Wicklund and Mrs. Ora Endress were business callers in Manistique Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Field of Dearborn and James, Louise and Clifford Robertson of Owensboro, Ky., enjoyed a few days here.

Mrs. August Human is a patient in the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital in Manistique. Her daughters, Mrs. Murray Chambers of Holland and Mrs. Arthur Olli of Fairport, O., were called here because of her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Potter and Jean Nunnallee of Shepherd, Mich., spent a few days in town.

Appearance Doesn't Count In This Case

ATLANTA — (AP) — Georgia's Court of Appeals recently held a Moultrie, Ga., man could recover $1,000 from an automobile dealer because a car the latter sold as a 1949 model actually was a 1948 model.

The dealer's defense: the physical appearance of the 1948 and 1949 models of the car (Hudson) varied so little that he was unable to tell them apart and honestly believed he was selling a 1949 model.

U. P. Medical, Cancer Groups Meet On Friday

Members of the local medical and cancer societies tomorrow will gather in Iron Mountain for a joint Upper Peninsula district meeting of the Medical Society and the American Cancer Society.

Presentation of a citation to the U. P. District of the Cancer Society will be made by the American Medical Society in recognition of its support for a cytology laboratory to serve the region in a program of cancer control.

The citation to be presented is one of six to be awarded nationally for some outstanding project in cancer control work. Henry Blanchard will represent the American Cancer Society. He and Mrs. A. M. Gilbert and Dr. Raymond Rogers were leaders in the movement to establish the laboratory.

Dr. Towey Speaker
Following the Friday night dinner there will be an open joint meeting of the Cancer Society and the Medical Society, with Rear Admiral A. C. Swanson, medical officer of the Ninth Naval District, Great Lakes, Ill., as the speaker.

Also appearing on the program will be Dr. Madge Thurlow Macklin of the department of medicine, Ohio State University.

In its own session Friday afternoon the U. P. Medical Society will hear Dr. John W. Towey, Powers, superintendent of Pinecrest Sanatorium, and a member of the Michigan State Sanatorium Commission.

Many To Attend
Dr. Towey will speak on the subject: "Differential Diagnosis of Chest Diseases." He has served as medical superintendent at inpatient since it opened in 1922. Dr. D. R. Smith of Iron Mountain is president of the U. P. Medical Society and general chairman of the program.

Attending the sessions at Iron Mountain tomorrow from Delta county will be the following:

Dr. James Dehlin, Dr. O. S. Hult, Mr. and Mrs. John Myland, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mathison, Gladstone; Mrs. Walter Mannie, Rock; Henry Boyle, Dr. and Mrs. N. J. Frenn, Bark River.

Doctors T. A. McInerney, R. E. Ryde, A. J. Carlton, S. C. Anderson, J. J. Walsh, L. P. Groos, and G. W. Benson, all of Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Yelland, Mr. and Mrs. John Anthony, Mrs. James G. Ward Jr., Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. A. M. Gilbert, and Mrs. F. W. Schmitt, Escanaba.

Draft To Ease Up On Farmers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today told the Armed Services to quit recruiting farm workers if they are deferred from the draft for necessary production.

He said he was alarmed by the loss to the farms of six million workers in the last four years.

The President issued a statement in connection with the signing of an executive order which he said would provide a more orderly policy for granting temporary deferments for essential industrial workers.

"These orders do not permit permanent exemption of any worker from selective service," the President said.

"Rather they provide a more orderly basis for granting the temporary deferments which local boards have customarily extended to qualified individuals."

Nothing For ESA

The Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA) got nothing, the committee saying it would consider ESA funds when Congress decides what to do about wage, price and rent controls. The agency wanted $103,250,000.

The Commerce and Interior Departments got what they requested, $716,536 for Commerce and $525,000 for Interior. The extra budget of $132,000 for Congress itself was approved in full.

The Labor Department was cut from $16,870,000 to $9,600,000, most of the cut being in funds for grants to states for unemployment compensation and employment service administration.

The Federal Security Agency was slashed from $110,710,400 to $10,537,750, the committee reject-

The school in Ensign will be conducted at the Alex Lundberg farm at 9:30 a. m. for members from Garden, Ensign, Isabella, North Delta and Stonington. Club members residing on the west side of Delta county will meet for their school at the Clarence Sundquist farm, Pine Ridge, at 1:30 p. m.

In the July judging contest a team will be selected to represent the county in district competition.

Career Of Detroit's Whistling Bandit Ends

DETROIT — (AP) — Police provided a sour note ending to the career of Henry A. Ugdis, Detroit's "whistling bandit."

Ugdis admitted robbing a service station here Monday as well as holding up taxi-cab drivers. He was arrested at his home yesterday.

Detectives said the 24-year-old father of three children was a cab driver until he was fired for incompetence last month. Police theorized Ugdis apparently got partial revenge for his discharge by robbing taxi drivers and locking them up in the trunks of their vehicles.

On each of his jobs, Ugdis would whistle loudly before pulling a gun on his victims.

Fireworks Plant Of M. A. Stone Damaged In Blast

A fireworks plant of the Liberty Fireworks Company, Chicago, owned by M. A. Stone, Maywood, well known in Escanaba, was extensively damaged yesterday in an explosion. Mr. Stone estimated damage at $20,000.

Three persons were slightly injured in the blast, which was caused by a small fire of undetermined origin in the display shed.

Mr. Stone owns a large potato farm six miles north of Watson in which he has invested considerable money. He visits Escanaba regularly, particularly during the summer and fall seasons.

Coalition Votes To End Controls By End Of July

wage and price controls July 31. Law Expires Monday

Rep. Barden (D-N. C.) sponsored this amendment, Martin, who opposed it, said a Senate-House conference committee probably would knock it out of the final bill even if the House didn't cancel yesterday's tentative vote.

Even without the Barden amendment, however, the bill—originally drawn to continue President Truman's wage, price, rent and other control powers for a year—has been so sharply whittled by the House that some members said they'd be surprised if it wasn't sent back to committee.

In that case Congress could either (1) allow all controls to die next Monday, when the present law expires, or (2) pass a quick short-term extension of the present law.

WSB Powers Diluted
As it now stands the House bill would:

End wage and price controls on July 31, 1952.

Continue until June 30, 1953, allocation and priority powers and rent control.

degree heat. It was the hottest June 25 in 54 years. In nearby Washington, the mercury hit 98 for a season's high and the hottest June 25 since 1875 in the nation's capital.

Three deaths attributed to the heat were reported in Ohio which sweltered in temperatures around the 100 degree mark.

Two persons died from effects of the heat in Philadelphia and 40 were treated in hospitals for heat exhaustion. The day's top reading of 96 was a record for the date. More of the same was predicted for today. It was 100 in Williamsport, Pa.

It was collar-wilting weather in most of New York state, with New York City reporting a record 96.5 reading. More than a score of persons were treated for heat prostration. One death was reported in upstate New York where temperatures were in the 90s. It was near 90 in New York late last night and the low overnight reading ranged from 75 to 82.

Texas Bakes At 106
Readings of 100 and above were general in many parts of the south. The day's top of 104 at Macon, Ga., marked the fifth consecutive day of 100 or higher and the 25th straight day with temperatures above 90. It was 103 in Augusta and 101 in Savannah. The 101 in Nashville was a record for the date while Chattanooga's 102 tied the all-time high for June set in 1936.

New records for June 25 were set in several Virginia cities, including Newport News with 102 and Richmond and Norfolk with 100. Texas baked, with a top of 106 at Presidio.

St. Louis was promised no relief after yesterday's sizzling 100 degree heat which set a new June 25 record. It was the 20th day in June with temperatures over 90 for the Missouri metropolis.

Youth Apprehended For Larceny From C&NW Railway Yard

Edward Stewart, 17, 517 First Ave. N., has been apprehended by city police after he was reported to have been seen taking C&NW property from the railway yard Monday.

The youth reportedly admitted yesterday to police officials that he and a juvenile companion took 185 pounds of lead alloy salvage material from the local railway premises. Value of the material was given as $45.

He will be charged with simple larceny.

to look into the issues involved in a dispute and make a report to the White House. Not until that has happened—and customarily it takes at least a week—can the President ask a court to issue an order banning continuation of the strike for 80 days.

The Steelworkers Union, it was learned, is considering an attack on the steel industry through the same Taft-Hartley Law.

The act makes it an unfair labor practice not to bargain collectively. The act says collective bargaining is conferring "in good faith" over union demands for higher wages and other contract changes. The union questions whether the steel companies have, in fact, bargained in good faith, and gives this reason:

The union was reliably reported to have reached a tentative agreement on a new contract late last week with Bethlehem Steel, second biggest producer. The tentative accord, these reports said, was rejected by others of the six main companies in the dispute when Bethlehem asked for their approval under an agreement that all six would stick together in the long contract fight.

Demo Candidates Are Split On Civil Rights

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
AP Newsfeatures
WASHINGTON — Candidates for the Democratic nomination for president are as divided as the party has been over the explosive civil rights legislation.

At one extreme is Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, he says he will disavow any party plank calling for legislation to outlaw discrimination, for reasons of race, creed or color, by employers in hiring people.

This is part of the civil rights program demanded by President Truman but stalled in Congress by Russell and others. It was the issue that split the 1948 nominating convention.

A plank committing the party in broad language to a program of fair employment practices (FEPC) and against lynching and poll taxes was considered.

When the convention went farther and endorsed the Administration's program in Congress, and called upon Congress to support the President, the Southern walk-out occurred.

Russell stayed with the party then although Southerners invited him to become their candidate for President.

How Others Stand on FEPC
Among Democrats clamoring for a strong civil rights stand by the party this year are candidates W. Averell Harriman; Brien McMahon and Hubert H. Humphrey, leader of the civil rights movement in the senate.

Another hopeful, Alben Barkley, has praised the administration's civil rights program and of course accepted the strong plank of 1948 when he was elected vice president.

Sen. Estes Kefauver has said if the Democratic convention writes a compulsory FEPC plank he will support it but he believes more can be done through education than by law. Sen. Robert S. Kerr says he will run on the party platform, after it is written, if he is nominated.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois is a champion of FEPC and other civil rights proposals, but some Southerners consider him sympathetic to their racial problems. He has said he is for strong state governments, handling local problems.

Here is how the candidates stand on some other issues:

Social Legislation
All the candidates say they are for all, or most, of the Democratic program of the past 20 years. Russell was a staunch supporter of the New Deal under Roosevelt but has gone contrary to President Truman on occasion, notably on civil rights.

Both McMahon and Harriman were appointed to government positions early in the first administration of Roosevelt and both have held a variety of administration assignments. Harriman says he isn't for the Brannan farm plan but favors a medical program to bring "decent medical care to all people."

Barkley, as senator and vice president, has helped create and guide New Deal and other administration measures through Congress. Humphrey is a strong advocate of social legislation; has fought for greater social security protection and benefits. Stevenson is considered by many people to be a "Liberal" in his attitude toward social legislation.

Foreign Policies
All of the candidates support the administration's foreign policies, although Russell hasn't approved of the size of some foreign appropriations.

Corruption in Government
Kefauver gained a national reputation as chairman of the Senate crime committee and has proposed a national crime commission. Its duties would include ferreting out dishonesty and unethical conduct in government.

Harriman has suggested the White House create an office to investigate corruption in government and the ethics of government employees. Kerr proposed a bi-partisan commission to investigate complaints of unethical conduct. McMahon is a former assistant attorney general who worked with J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI against big time crime.

Stevenson campaigned for the governorship of Illinois on a pledge he would bring morality into government and he tightened gambling laws. Humphrey has a reputation for clean government in Minneapolis, where he was mayor. He also spearheaded the government reorganization of appointment methods for Internal Revenue collectors. Barkley says no political party ever had a monopoly on either virtue or vice, but he is for ferreting out all wrongdoing in government.

Labor
All oppose the Taft-Hartley labor law in its present form, although Russell was among those who voted for it. His aides say he believes there should be labor legislation that is better balanced in regard to responsibilities and benefits for both labor and management. McMahon proposes a commission to study the labor situation and make recommendations; Kerr believes there would be "more serious and sincere" collective bargaining "in the absence" of the Taft-Hartley law.

Barkley says the "monstrous Taft-Hartley act" was intended to "destroy the liberty of the working man" and Humphrey is the co-author of amendments to the act which he says are intended to soften its effect upon labor. Kefauver believes the law should be revised so labor and management each has more responsibility in bargaining. Harriman believes the law was created in a spirit of vindictiveness against labor and a new law is needed.

Economy in Government
McMahon, who is chairman of the joint atomic committee in Congress, believes development of atomic power, both for military and civilian purposes, is the major answer to U. S. problems. He says a mighty atomic development program could place the U. S. so far ahead of other nations militarily it would assure peace. And he argues the cost would be less than if armies and weapons are developed on more conventional lines.

Stevenson says he likes to be known as a "hard man with a dollar" and his friends say his administration as governor in Illinois has been successful. Humphrey is the sponsor of legislation he says is designed to help Congress do a more scientific job of budget cutting. Barkley says he is aware everyone wants reduced taxes, but he says America's responsibilities are so important to world peace they cannot be subordinated. Kefauver believes it is necessary to balance the budget as soon as military needs can be cut. Kerr opposes increasing taxes in the absence of all-out war. Russell says national spending must be balanced on the nation's ability to produce and pay. Harriman has asserted a billion-dollar cut in the foreign aid program could seriously harm the nation's security. He has said that possibly "within a

Elephant vs Donkey- And How They Grew

REPUBLICAN ELEPHANT, now the GOP emblem, first appeared in this cartoon by Nast in Harper's Weekly in 1874

By RAY ELLIS
NEA Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO—(NEA)—Most voters who will go to the polls in November will either be voting for the "GOP" elephant or the Democratic donkey.

Although both symbols are as familiar to our people as the Statue of Liberty, it would be safe to say that few party stalwarts would know how their mascot was chosen.

The donkey and the elephant are probably the only two animals of different species that have a common identical ancestor. They were both brought into existence during the '70s of the last century by the famous political caricaturist Thomas Nast.

Strangely enough, each political animal was tagged to its particular party in an atmosphere of derisive jest. Each found favor with the rank and file, and was drafted for regular service, pushing the original Republican eagle and Democratic rooster to the sidelines.

The Democratic Donkey was born first and had an unflattering debut, on an advertising page of the pro-Republican Harper's Weekly.

It was depicted as lashing out with its hoofs against a dead lion, representing Edward M. Stanton, secretary of war in Lincoln's cabinet, who had died shortly before. The donkey was supposed to be the Democratic or "Copperhead Press," doing its best to besmirch the name of the gallant dead.

Another source says the donkey symbol originated because the

His intention was to poke fun at the Democratic Party. Good-naturedly they accepted the animal and turned it into a symbol to rally around.

The birth of the elephant took place in a manner more befitting that illustrious mascot. It was given a whole page for its activity in the same periodical.

It was suggested to Nast by an Aesop fable which describes how a donkey went about in lion's skin terrorizing the animals and frightening the elephant into a trap set by a cunning fox.

His illustration showed such a scene. The donkey dressed as a lion was labeled "The New York Herald." The elephant was the "Republican vote." The fox peeking out from under a bush, had a "Democratic Party" on his collar.

The elephant found such favor with the Republican adherents that it survived the Democratic victory of 1874 and speedily became the party symbol.

Shirley Stevenson, William Westlund Wed. At Perkins

PERKINS — Miss Shirley Ann Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson Sr. of Perkins, was united in marriage with William H. Westlund of Rock in a double ring ceremony held June 21 at 11 a. m. in St. Joseph's Church of Perkins with the Rev. Fr. Charles Daniel officiating.

Music for the ceremony was played by Miss Kathleen Depuydt and Miss Eunice Peterson. Colored peonies were attractively placed as church decorations.

Miss Stevenson, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of the traditional white satin with a hoop skirt and a front panel of Chantilly lace, which fell gracefully into a three tiered train edged in Chantilly lace. It had long tapering sleeve of nylon net and a bodice of lace over satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion and Chantilly lace was caught to a Juliet cap of satin, lace, and seed pearls. Roses, snapdragons, and carnations formed her white bouquet.

Pink and Nile Green

A cousin of the bride, Miss Charlotte Koltz of Milwaukee, wore pink in her role of maid of honor. Her bridesmaids, Mrs. Morley Roberts of Rock and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson Jr. of Gladstone, were garbed in Nile green. Their gowns were fashioned identically with a two layer nylon net and taffeta skirt over crinoline. Their jewelry, rhinestone necklace, bracelet and earring sets, were presented to them by the bride. Miss Koltz carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. The bridesmaids' bouquets were of yellow snapdragons, pink carnations, and white roses.

Mrs. Stevenson chose a pale yellow and purple nylon crepe print with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations for her daughter's wedding. Aqua mesh formed Mrs. Westlund's two piece dress. She wore pink accessories and a pink and yellow rose corsage.

Dinner, Reception and Dance
The Log Cabin was the setting for the 1 o'clock wedding dinner for 34 guests. Approximately 300 guests attended the wedding reception held in the Five to Eight Club of Rock. The club was decorated with wedding bells. A four tiered wedding cake centered the table and was topped by a miniature bride and groom. A wedding dance was held that evening from 9 until 1 in the Riento Hall of Rock, which was colorfully decorated with white, purple, green and yellow streamers.

After a two weeks honeymoon trip to Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit, Niagara Falls, and into Canada, the newlyweds will make their home in Rock. The bride was graduated from Perkins High School, and the groom, who is employed in Rock, is a graduate of Rock High School.

Out-of-town wedding guests included the following: Mrs. Mary Koltz, grandmother of the bride, Miss Kathryn Koltz and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Newby, Stevens Point, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koltz and son, Kenneth, Manitowoc, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koltz and daughter, Patty, Mrs. Allan Lochemus, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Osborn, Miss Frances Kresh, Miss Nancy Schroeder, Mrs. Cordelia Trombley and daughter, Marian, Leo Lusardi, and Mrs. Dorothy Berg, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Turunen, Lake Forest, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Rajala, Selin, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlson, Skokie, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Henning, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marbury, Chicago; Mr. and

There's Contrast In Autumn's Coat Styles

Silhouette contrast marks Fall coat designs, from the full and flaring to the close and fitted. Seymour Fox shows the new tulip silhouette (left) in a three-quarter wrap coat of hairy wool in anthracite gray. The circle coat (center) by Monte-Sano is in soft

"seal-cloth" wool in flame red. The line is fluid, the weight is light, and the tapering sleeves, warm pushed up, seem a part of the yoke. The flaring silhouette (right) is done by Seymour Fox in a red-and-blue mixture of loop tweed. Sleeves are inset.

AS WE LIVE

Urge To Hold Spotlight Hangover From Childhood

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

Young children like to be the center of attention. This they discover is easy if they put on a show and attract attention by what they say or do. As one reaches maturity, this sort of behavior should be put away with other childish things. The young girl who wrote the following letter is just coming to this realization:

(Q) "I think a lot of a fellow who is 10 years older than I. I know he thinks a lot of me but he thinks I'm conceited and difficult to get along with. My friends tell me I'm cute and have a nice figure. When I am with this fellow or another friend, I like to be the center of attraction. Now this fellow has stopped seeing me. He is a disc jockey and is always meeting important people. How can I change myself and try to win him back?"

(A) You have already passed over the first hurdle by realizing what is the matter with you and why this young man has stopped seeing you. If you sincerely want to win him back, you should have the motivation to stop behaving like a child.

If you have abilities, charm, and a dominating personality, you will be the center of attraction.

A man 10 years older than you who is out in the world meeting really important people cannot feel heeling that you are just a "smarty kid." At first, this may have seemed cute to him but he doubtless has had an overdose of your childishness and is fed up with it.

You may not realize it but you would be far "cuter" and more appealing to men if you would act your age. Just be sweet and agreeable. It is not necessary to call attention to yourself to be noticed. And it means far more to be noticed favorably than to force attention by showing off.

When you learn to grow up and act your age you might ask this young man to come to a party you are giving. Show him how poised and grown-up you have become. Then, if he hasn't turned his attentions elsewhere, you will have a good chance of winning him back.

THE FORMER Carol Ann Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams, Bark River Rte. 1, and Albert James Wunder were married in a ceremony at Salem Ev. Lutheran parsonage in Escanaba June 21. The wedding supper was served at the Bark River Community Hall. (Ridings Photo)

NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—There's real contrast in coat fashions for Fall, contrast that takes in such diverse silhouettes as the barrel line versus the tulip, both of them highly important. There are coats with a modified flare and many fitted coats, the latter gaining in importance.

The waistline question is a highly controversial one. High, low or natural? Many houses show all three. Similarly, shoulder seams and, sometimes, by wide capelet sleeves.

There's contrast in sleeve treatments, too. These either taper, slimming down to a narrow cuff, or take to great fullness in company with widened cuff effects. Both are shown and both are good.

Collars may be very wide or they may not be collars at all. Where the wide mantle collar does not appear, there's likely to be a cardigan effect or a simple roll or small club collar.

The empire, or high-waisted look, is balanced by the low-waisted coat, frequently demonstrated by some variation of the martingale.

Little fur touches appear in many Fall coats; some of these are used for the small club and roll collars or for trim on widely-flared cape effects. The tulip silhouette often gets fur trimming in the form of a small, close collar high about the neck.

Plan Thinning Out To Prolong Garden Harvest

Thin Out Excess Plants Gradually, and Allow the Best Plants to Live. Using Discards for Table When Possible.

Many a home vegetable garden crop which gets a fine start, is ruined by the failure of the gardener to thin out the plants, so they have a chance to mature.

But do not destroy at once all excess plants. There are many hazards in the garden which may destroy some plants and it is well to keep a reserve on hand, as long as possible.

Just as soon as the plants are large enough to handle, thin them to stand about an inch apart. This will allow them to develop rapidly, with no danger of entangling their roots with neighbors.

When they threaten to crowd again, many of the tiny plants can be used on the table. Carrots as thick as your little finger make a dish to remember. Beets just beginning to form, cooked with their tender, nutritious tops, are a real table treat. Lettuce leaves two inches across can be used in a bowl salad. Onions, kohlrabi, Swiss chard and spinach are among other plants which are delicious when half-mature.

By removing alternate plants, using the discards where possible, the optimum spacing of the survivors is attained. What this spacing should be cannot be told precisely for your garden. It depends upon the variety you grow, and the fertility of your soil. In well fed home gardens, plants can usually be grown closer together than in market gardens, and the tendency is to increase the number of plants grown, even in commercial operations.

Be sure, however, that each plant has room to mature without suffering from competition. Peas will do well in single rows, when spaced an inch apart; bush beans, two to four inches; bush lima beans, 18 inches for the large seed varieties, and a foot for the small seed. Carrots will mature when close enough for the root tops to touch; beets need three to four inches, and turnips, which must grow fast, should be thinned out at an early stage to stand four inches apart.

Thinning out plants should be an opportunity to select the finest plants you have for growing on, discarding the inferior. And while you work at it, make a mental note of the folly of sowing too many seed. Two or three times as many seeds as the plants you can mature should always be sown, to allow for accidental losses. But beginners often sow ten times as much as they need which wastes seed, and increases the work of thinning out.

It gives the beginner an emotional shock to pull seedlings which have grown from the seed sowed; but this is a task which must be done, if a failure of the crop is to be avoided.

FOR SAFETY'S SAKE

All of the active ingredients of a household match are placed in the head. In a safety match, one of the active ingredients is left out of the head and mixed with the materials of the scratching surface of the box.

Swindling Spree At End In Calcutta

CALCUTTA—(AP)—Red-faced Calcutta school officials have ended the 12-year spree of a swindler who talked his way into $4,200 nobody missed.

At least the pilfered cash went unnoticed for years while the 35-year-old man skipped from job to job in the local educational system. The smart-looking Hindu, who speaks excellent, fluent English, kept a step ahead of suspicion until May.

He didn't even have the high school, college or post-graduate degrees he flaunted—forged—before school officials and actually never reached eighth grade. He always showed keen interest in "administrative" work in schools "that kept him near the cash box," one police officer commented.

Low Rubber Price Seen In Singapore

SINGAPORE—(AP)—The Malayan rubber price is likely to remain at its present low level owing to completion of United States stockpiling, in the opinion of Dr. W. E. Cate, president of Malayan-American Plantations, Ltd. The present price averages 30 cents a pound.

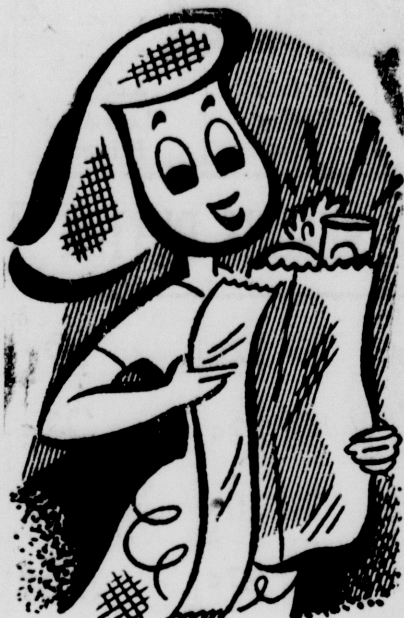

Rubber producers in this part of the world will now have to operate carefully and economically in order to pull through the period of low prices, he said.

Drunk Driving Charge Is Denied

LeRoy Maki, 28, Route 1, Rock, was arraigned before Justice of Peace A. T. Sohlberg yesterday morning on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

Maki entered a plea of not guilty and trial was set for July 1. Arrest was made Tuesday in Kip- ping by Michigan State Police.

Charles J. Livermore, 21, 802 17th, Escanaba, was arraigned before Justice Sohlberg on a similar charge to which he also entered a not guilty plea only to change it later while still pro- testing innocence.

He was fined $50 and court costs and his operator's permit was suspended.

Livermore was the driver of a car which went off the pavement in the village of Bark River early Memorial Day morning and struck Clairmont Transfer truck which was parked on the shoulder.

Complaint in the case was made by Charles Stenac, Glad- one, who had been driving the truck.

Girards Birl At Midland July 4th

William F. (Billy) Girard and his son, Lowell, will give a log- rolling exhibition on July 4 at a celebration to be known as River Day at Midland, Mich.

Anniversary Couple Fond Of Baseball

PLAINFIELD, N. J. — (AP) — Baseball layed Cupid for a couple 10 years ago and they are still as today.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Dodge recently celebrated their gold- en wedding anniversary. They met at a baseball game in which Dodge was a player for a local team. The couple often go to New York to watch the Yankees and Giants, their favorites.

"In all our 50 years together we have never been separated a day," says Mrs. Dodge.

Birds Need Vitamins As Well As Humans

AUSTIN, Tex. — (AP) — Birds have to have their vitamin A, too. This was made clear in a report on bobwhite quail by the wildlife manager of the big King Ranch in South Texas, V. W. Lehman.

The quail died off mysteriously in wholesale lots on the ranch during the winter of 1950-51.

Lehmann said tests disclosed that lack of native food contain- ing the indispensable vitamin A and severe cold weather that restricted the quail's feeding rou- tine caused them to die.

Miss Patricia Olive Becomes Bride Of Richard Sandstrom

Miss Patricia Olive, daughter of Mrs. Jewel Olive, Gladstone, and Richard Sandstrom, son of Mrs. Harry Haglund, Gladstone, were married on Saturday at Ann Ar- bor. Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ducheny.

For her wedding, the bride chose a navy blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of mixed carnations. Her attendant wore a pink dress with white ac- cessories and a mixed corsage.

The newlyweds were honored at a reception held at the Ducheny home and later in the evening a dance was held at the Checker Club. The bride graduated from Gladstone High school in 1949 and is attending the Michigan Normal College at Ypsilanti. The bride- groom has been working in Ann Arbor and in the fall he will also attend Michigan Normal. Mrs. Jewel Olive and her mother, Mrs. Mabel Gish, attended the wedding.

City Planning 2 Net Tourneys

Two city tennis tournaments will be held this summer and entries for the first will be accepted at any time at the Recreation Center, it is announced by Beverly Burt, recreation director.

Competition for both boys and girls will be held and in three di- visions, junior, intermediate and senior.

The first tournament will start about July 20 and the second will be held in mid-August. Definite dates will be announced later. Three days will be allotted for running each tournament.

Medals will be given to the win- ners in each division.

Players desiring to enter the first tournament may phone Miss Burt at 9-9261.

Missing Bicycle Found By Police

Michigan State Police Tuesday recovered a junior size boys' bicy- cle reported by Mrs. H. L. Clar- age, 113 S. 12th St., Gladstone, as having been missing several days before.

While driving near the bathing beach an officer noticed a young- ster riding a bike answering the description of that missing and a check revealed it was the one being hunted for.

The boy who had it was only 9 years of age and he was released into custody of his parents.

Hold Fireworks In Central Park

In order to provide greater audience visibility, the Fourth of July fireworks display will take place in Central Park, it is announced by the American Legion Fourth committee.

Initially it had been decided to hold the display at Lakeside park, overlooking Lake Michigan. The fireworks will be shot following an evening program at the high school stadium which will include several Silver Gloves boxing bouts.

Some of the aerial fireworks numbers will be shot across the quarry pond and other displays will take place on the sandhills, east of the pool.

Lions Install New Officers

Officers of the Manistique Lions Club were installed following a dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Paul Bunyan Cook Camp.

Henry Giroux, of Nahma, deputy district governor, officiated at the installation service.

The following officers were seated:

President, Frank Richards; first vice president, Earl Cox; second vice president, Carl Graves; third vice president, O. F. Smits; secretary-treasurer, Howard Hewitt; lion tamer, Dr. C. L. Novak; tail twister, Donald Messier; one year directors, John C. Hanson and Alex Creighton; two year directors, Dr. Merle Wehner and John Raffay.

Vandenberg Is Visitor Here

Lt. Gov. William C. Vandenberg, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor at the Aug. 5 primary, conferred with Schoolcraft County party officials Tuesday.

Vandenberg is the second Republican aspirant for governor to visit the county. Donald Leonard was here two weeks ago. Saturday Fred M. Alger is scheduled to visit Manistique and make a tour of the county.

Students Try Hand At High Finance

TOLEDO, O.—(P)—Five graduate students of the University of Toledo have spent part of the past academic year "playing around" with $5,000 belonging to a local bank.

They invested the money in real securities as part of an educational venture to acquaint students with the world of finance. The fund was donated by the Ohio Citizens Trust Co. The students realized 4.4 per cent on their investment.

The largest profit, $150, was made from an investment in a stock the name of which the bank vice-president said would not even be breathed in a reputable bank.

Vessel Of Death Remains Mystery

JAKARTA, Indonesia — (P) — Reports from the remote island of Flores tells of the discovery of a "mysterious vessel-of death".

Local authorities recently set out by motor launch to investigate stories about a boat which cruised aimlessly along the east coast of Flores.

After a search of several hours they found the boat. It contained six corpses, a Singer sewing machine and a bicycle. The dead could not be identified, and the discovery is still a mystery to the police.

Herb Fagan's Cat Is Recommended For Puss In Boots Award

A cat owned by Herb Fagan of Manistique has been recommended for the Puss'n Boots Bronze Award. Last year the orphan kitten took over the raising of two orphan puppies at the Herb Fagan home near the Paul Bunyan Cook Camp at Manistique.

Then, the cat, only three weeks older than the pups, began to mother them. She bossed the puppies and another orphan kitten, making them eat and sleep together. This mothering continued until the pups and the other kitten were grown up.

On the basis of this, the Puss'n Boots Bronze Award committee on selections made their choice. The award committee, with its headquarters in New York, works in conjunction with the Coast Fisheries. The committee created the bronze award and citation to be presented to owners in behalf of cats whose commendable characteristics and achievements are judged worthy of recognition.

Registers End Meeting Today

The 38th annual convention of the Michigan Association of Register of Deeds, held at Blaney Park, was concluded at noon today with election of officers.

G. Leslie Bouschor, Schoolcraft county register of deeds, was convention host.

The session opened at 10 a. m. Tuesday with registration. The annual banquet was held at 7 last night.

W. G. Stephens, Manistique city assessor and a member of the Board of Supervisors, officially welcomed the state group at the noon luncheon Tuesday.

Township Resident Pays $43 This Week On Double Charges

Fines and costs aggregating $43 were imposed on Richard Hider, Manistique township, when he was arraigned this week in local justice court on charges of reckless driving and disorderly conduct.

Hider paid $29 fine and costs on the reckless driving count and $14 fine and costs for disorderly behavior.

He was arrested by city police on June 22. The offenses occurred on Cedar and River streets.

Phone Hearing Here Tomorrow

A public hearing on proposed telephone rate increases by the Michigan Associated Telephone Company in its Manistique and Gulliver exchanges will be held at 9:30 tomorrow morning at the City Hall building.

The hearing will be conducted by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

A petition signed by a group of Manistique telephone subscribers was presented at a meeting of the City Council Monday evening and was ordered held for presentation at the public hearing. The petition requested a reduction in Manistique and Gulliver rates to conform with rates now in effect in Sault Ste. Marie.

The council at Monday's session also indicated that the city would be represented at the hearing.

Donald Larson Is Given Rosenthal Scholarship

Donald F. Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Larson, 724 Garden Ave., has been awarded the Rosenthal Scholarship for 1952, it is announced at Manistique high school.

Donald, a member of this year's graduating class, is the fifth local student to receive the award since it was instituted several years ago as a memorial to two of Manistique's leading pioneer citizens, Lazarus and Rachel Blumrosen Rosenthal.

Other students who have received the award are Margaret Nelson, Theresa Cutting, Nadine Westin, Evelyn Anderson, and Bennett Olmstead. Two of these students failed to take full advantage of the scholarship, the balance being passed on to others.

Award Is $250

The award, amounting to $250, is presented by a committee of five annually to a Manistique high school graduate who has shown ability to do creditable scholastic work. The award does not go necessarily to the student with the highest marks. No essays or competitive examinations are required.

Donald, one of five children in the Larson family, has been a leader both scholastically and in class and school activities during his four years in Manistique high school. His extra-curricular activities include four years of class basketball, co-editorship of the 1952 yearbook, treasurer of the Hi-Y Club in his junior year and class president in his senior year.

To Enter U. of M.

He shared with James Keteik the honor of giving the class will at annual class day exercises this month, represented Manistique in 1951 at a citizenship training program conducted by the University of Michigan Extension Service, and in the same year represented the local Rotary Club at the Uthrotar convention in Ironwood.

Donald plans to enter the University of Michigan next fall to begin an engineering course.

The scholarship was made available to local students by Samuel R. Rosenthal, of Chicago, who graduated from Manistique high school in 1916 and later from the University of Michigan and Harvard Law School. He is now a member of a Chicago legal firm.

Christopher Bechtler, Rutherford, N. C., was one of the few Americans to mint gold coins privately.

Donate Supplies To Scout Camp

An impressive amount of supplies for improvement work at Camp Timber Trail has been donated by Manistique merchants, it is announced.

The material is to be delivered to the Girl Scout camp early Saturday morning. A National Guard truck has been contributed to transport the material to the camp, with Capt. E. J. Doyle, commander officer, as driver.

A local gasoline distributor has given 20 gallons of gasoline to power the truck on its trip to the camp.

The following material has been donated:

Five hundred feet of standard romex, 12 double plugs, 12 outlet boxes, 12 switches, five gallons of inside white paint, six rolls of tarpaper, 24 pounds of 4-inch spikes, 25 pounds of roofing nails, keg of common nails, a 30-inch roll of fine mesh screening, five gallons of forest green outside paint, 10 gallons of creosote, and 11 dozen romex staples.

months to one year to pursue studies in design, ceramics, history, economics and Swedish culture.

Bears Face Test Tonight Against Hermansville Here

The youthful Escanaba Bears will face a critical test tonight in a Tri County League baseball game with Hermansville at the City diamond here. Game time is 6:30 sharp.

The Bears are within shooting distance of the league leading Stephenson team and with the Steves due to come to Escanaba Sunday, the young Escanaba team has a grand opportunity to move up the league ladder.

Sports Oldtimers No Asset, Ruark Laments

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—The sports scene in recent days has been a peculiar one—something that's slipped up on us quietly. Actually, we are a second-class picture at the moment, exactly as during the last war. The very best bodies aren't practicing their chores.

If you watch a ball game you will notice that the averages generally are very low. It is a pitchers' game at the moment, with very few teams lucky enough to have more than one or two 300 hitters, and an alarming number of batting averages under .250.

Hiltunen Wins For Fort Leonard Wood

Russ Hiltunen, the Escanaba baseball pitcher and hockey player, by way of the Copper Country, made his debut with the Fort Leonard Wood baseball team the other day and posted an 8-3 victory in a relief role against the Scott Air Force Base.

Hiltunen went into the game with only one out in the first inning and his team trailing, 2 to 0. He did not allow an earned run in the 8 2-3 innings he pitched, fanned six and walked four. He got one hit in three trips to the plate.

Bud Keneally of Escanaba also is stationed at Fort Leonard Wood and saw Hiltunen in his first pitching chore there.

Hiltunen pitched for the Escanaba Bears last season before signing with the Oshkosh Giants of the Wisconsin State League.

QUESTION: Why is it unwise for the catcher to try to pick off a man at first base with runners on first and second?

Answer: The runner on second can move to third.

Q. When can the pitcher purposely fill the bases?

A. In the ninth inning, with one out and the winning run on third the bases are filled to set up a force play at plate or a possible double play.

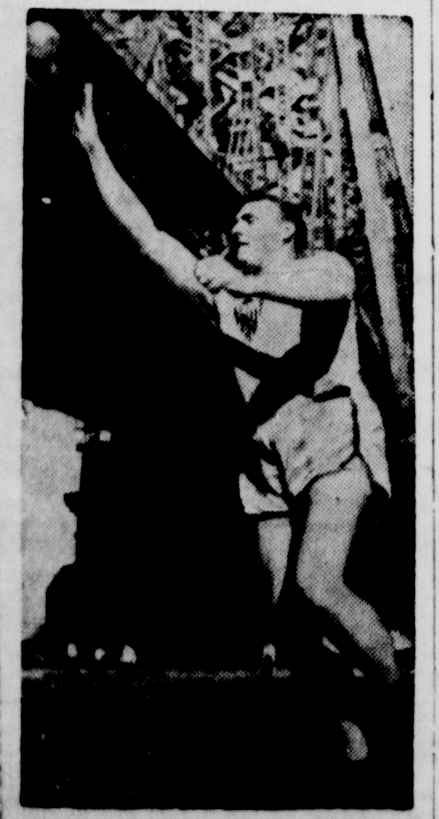

Q. When should the pitcher back up third base or the plate?

A. He backs up third with a runner on first on a base hit to right, also with a runner on second on a fly ball to the outfield.

Q. He backs up the catcher when there's a runner on third and a fly ball is hit to the outfield.

Q. What was Dizzy Dean's pitching average before injuring his shoulder?

A. In the five and a half seasons the Cardinal right-hander pitched in the National League before hurting his shoulder, he won 133 and lost 66 for a .667 percentage, which is a higher average than any of the four modern-era pitchers in the Hall of Fame could boast.

Hermansville club, always tough for the Bears. Hermansville is in contending position, too, and will be out to knock the ears off the Escanabans.

Either Jack Chriske or Manager Jack Beck will take the mound tonight for the Bears, with Jim Nyquist catching. Babe Kleiman will be at first base, Pete Kutches at second, John Martinac at third, Paul Gunderman at shortstop, Tippy Larmay, Dick Whitney and Ed Lindquist in the outfield.

Hermansville is expected to nominate Ernie Massignan for pitching duty. Massignan hurled a one-hitter against the Bears last year.

The game is a makeup league game, postponed two weeks ago because of rain. The Bears still have a postponed game with Wallace to make up, also.

Cooks Beaten By Al's Legion

Al's Legion made effective use of four hits last night to edge out Cooks, 3 to 2, in an exhibition game at City diamond.

Dick Cass, pitching for the Escanabans, gave up nine hits but was master of the situation with men on bases. Dave Kwarciany homered for Al's Legion.

Turnesa Takes PGA Title On 36th Hole

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
LOUISVILLE—For Jim Turnesa, the first victory was the hardest.

That's easy to say today after watching the swarthy, tight lipped little man fight his way back from what looked like a certain defeat to whip Chick Harbert on the 36th hole to win the PGA championship.

It was the first major title ever taken by a professional member of the famous Turnesa golfing clan.

But Jimmy said it himself even before he went out to meet Harbert, a golfer who wades into the tough spots and usually comes out ahead with the big punch.

Every Match Tough
Comparing his trip to the finals this year to that of ten years ago, when he whipped Dutch Harrison, Jug McSpaden, Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson in successive matches, only to bow to Sam Snead in the final, Turnesa insisted this one was harder.

"I was ahead of those guys," he said unsmilingly. "This time every match has been tough. Ted Kroll (semifinal loser) never let up on me. Every time I thought I had him, he'd come right back at me. If I hadn't played Clarence Doser the day before, I probably would have lost to Kroll. Doser played the same way."

Turnesa, third member of his family to reach the PGA final, must have learned something from those matches. Harbert knocked him down at the very first hole. After the first 18 he was three down. Then, like his earlier rivals, he "came back" at his rival.

While the wild-shooting Harbert became wilder as the tension increased, little Jim steadied, improved his long iron shots, which had been erratic, and began sinking the "pressure" putts.

Evergreen Costs $2,000
At the 27th he had cut Harbert's margin to one hole; for the second time. At the 32nd he drew even, ramming in an eight-foot putt for a birdie. But he never was ahead until the 36th.

There Harbert, who belted 13 drives into the rough during the afternoon round, got into his worst position. His ball landed under a small evergreen and Chick had to crawl beneath the branches to chip it out to the fairway. That

Kayo Of Vejar Lines Davey Up For Shot At Welterweight Title

BBY HARRY STAPLER

DETROIT—(AP)—Chuck Davey, the thoughtful scholar of pro boxing, looks forward to bigger things today. And now that he's brushed past Chico Vejar for the second time, the bigger things include a crack at the world's welterweight title.

Davey, the 147½ pound Michigan State College graduate student, went down only once. He couldn't get up.

Davey, fighting his first headline bout in his home town, had chased him all around the ring after spearing him at one minute of the round with a hard right to the stomach. Davey finally caught up to him and flattened Chico.

A cheering section from Michigan State was included among the fans that paid $44,544.70 to see the nationally televised and broadcast fight.

Eyebrows Stand Up
All officials had scored the first four rounds the same way. Referee Johnny Weber, Judge Joe Lenahan and Judge Bill Appleton gave Davey the first and second round 6 to 4, Vejar the third round 6 to 4 and had called the fourth round even 5 to 5.

In Michigan officials divide 10 points per round between the fighters.

Davey's eyebrows, usually a target, stood up to Vejar's attack, although the Stamford, Conn., fighter opened up a cut on Davey's forehead by his butting tactics.

Davey is anxious to meet Basilio who chopped up Davey's eyebrows recently at Syracuse, N. Y. Basilio was announced as the winner of a split decision but the New York Boxing Commission switched the verdict to a draw when it learned that Referee Joe Palmer had failed to mark every round of the fight on his scorecard.

PURSES HELD UP
DETROIT—(AP)—A restraining order obtained here yesterday against fight promoter Nick Londres, officials of the International Boxing Club, and Olympia stadium, may prevent Chuck Davey and Chico Vejar from collecting their purses for their fight last night.

A contractor who claims that Londres owes him $6,000 for a home he built for him in Grosse Pointe obtained the restraining order shortly before the bout was won by Davey in the fifth round.

The order was signed by Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan. Londres today scoffed at the idea of a court order tying up the boxers' purses.

"I'm just an employee of the boxing club," he said, "they can't tie up club funds for a claim against me as an individual. This contractor got a judgement against me in 1950. His bill was $6,000 more than it was supposed to be and I'm not going to pay it."

Carlyle Michelman, attorney for the contractor, Dan Gilchrist, said the court order would tie up all receipts of both the IBBC and Olympia, at least until July 11 when the order is returnable.

Heat Beats Sugar Ray; May End Ring Career

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK—(AP)—The ring career of Sugar Ray Robinson may have come to an end in the blast furnace heat of Yankee stadium last night—just two rounds away from victory over light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim.

The third jewel for his crown eluded Robinson in the steaming 103-degree temperature that melted the flesh off the lean middle-weight king.

Robinson—well ahead of his heavier rival—collapsed after the 13th round and the victory was tossed to the fumbling hands of Maxim. It was an astonishing climax of what had been a one-sided fray.

"Ray was going to call it quits if he won decisively," said June Clark, a longtime friend of Ray. "Now this could be it too, I guess."

Robinson who once held the welterweight crown had been bidding to become the third fighter to win three championships.

There was many an expert who felt that he had seen the last of the great sugar man. Ray—with money aplenty—may give the answer today when he recovers.

The bout will go into the books as a 14th round technical knockout for Maxim. But most of the wilted crowd of 47,983 (gross gate $421,696) will credit the T. K. O. to the heat in Yankee stadium.

Ray couldn't talk to the press after he was helped to his dressing room. It was the first knock-out of his 11½ years of pro boxing but his second defeat in less than a year.

Short Patches Help
Dr. Ira McCown, state athletic commission physician, told reporters outside Robinson's dressing room that "Robinson is mentally as well as physically exhausted. He's speaking unintelligibly. He appears to be out in left field."

Promoter Al Weill later told reporters Robinson was all right. "He told me 'Maxim didn't beat me. The heat did it. I guess God wanted it that way,'" Weill said.

Maxim, who weighed 173 to 157½ for Robinson said his short punches to the body weakened his lighter rival as much as the heat. "The heat hurt me as much as him," said Maxim, the 6 to 5 favorite.

Robinson did most of the leading in the first 11 rounds stabbed Joe like a matador working on a lumbering bull. He staggered Maxim in the seventh and ninth rounds with smashing left hooks.

Maxim's best punches were those shorties to the body in the clinches. His occasional left hooks to the head and a rare right were without much steam.

Referee Gets Sick
In the 12th, two rounds after Referee Ruby Goldstein became ill from the oppressive heat and was replaced by Ray Miller, Robinson appeared to wobble as he retreated from Maxim.

Near the end of the 13th he fell on his face after missing a hay-maker right. At the bell he collapsed against the ropes in a neutral corner. His handlers quickly dragged him to his stool.

Dr. Alexander Schiff, the ring-side physician, said Robinson told him that "I can't get up on my feet. I'm all in."

The doctor signaled referee Miller that it was all over. Judge Harold Barnes said he had Robinson in front, 10-3. Judge Arthur Aidaia said his card had Ray leading, 9-3-1, the same as the Associated Press card.

Rising Senators Threaten To Get Into Pennant Race

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

"We won't finish last."

That's what Bucky Harris, manager of the Washington Senators, said back in February.

That statement was taken with a grain of salt in some quarters. After all the Senators finished a sick seventh in 1951 and but for the St. Louis Browns would have wound up in the coal bin.

But Harris, by astute manipulations in the trade marts, has more than kept his word. The Senators, now in fourth place, are threatening to plunge into the heart of the American League pennant race.

The Senators, victors in only 62 games last year, scored their 32nd triumph yesterday, outlasting the cooled off Chicago White Sox, 9-6, in ten innings.

Yanks Fall, 10-9
Jackie Jensen boomed a two-run homer to run his hitting streak to 11 games while Hom Ferrick picked up the win in relief with the help of three walks off Marv Grissom and an error by Chico Carrasquel.

Carrasquel, attempting to start a doubleplay after taking a toss from Nelly Fox, bobbled the ball. Later it was learned the slick Chicago shortstop sustained a broken little finger on his right hand.

The victory enabled the Senators to move to within four games of the league-leading New York Yankees who dropped a 10-9 decision to the Browns in St. Louis.

Rookie outfielder Bob Neiman of the Browns broke up the game, played in 100 degree heat, with a two-out homer in the eighth inning off Bobby Hogue.

Satchel Helps Out
Gene Bearden, who took over in the fourth was the winner but he needed assistance from the amazing Satchel Paige. Paige was called from his special canopied cushioned chair in the bull pen in the ninth after pinch-hitter Johnny Sain had worked the count to 3-0. Paige struck out Sain and retired the side.

The loss cut the Yanks' lead to 2½ games over the Boston Red Sox who moved into the runner-up slot by trouncing the Detroit Tigers, 10-3, while Cleveland bowed to the Philadelphia Athletics, 11-9.

Home runs by former Tigers George Kell and Hoot Evers and a six-run uprising in the eighth inning wrecked the Tigers. Kell homered with one on in the seventh and delivered a two-run single in the big eighth.

The Athletics also came up with a six-run eighth inning to beat the Indians. The spurge wiped out a 9-5 deficit. Pinch-hitter Keith Thomas' two-run single and Eddie Joost's three-run double were the big blows of the rally.

Cubs' Come Back, 4-1
Brooklyn maintained its four-game National League advantage over New York, beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1, while the Giants edged the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2.

Carl Erskine, making his first start since his no-hitter against Chicago, went all the way and allowed eight hits to boost his record to 7-1. Gerry Staley permitted the Dodgers only four safeties but one was a three-run homer in the fourth inning by Roy Campanella.

Whitey Lockman singled home Sal Yvars from third base with two out in the eighth inning to break a 2-2 tie and give the Giants the nod over Cincinnati.

Big Max Surkont and Sid Gordon teamed up to lead the Boston Braves to a 5-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Surkont checked the tail-end Pirates on five hits and Gordon drove in two runs on his 12 homer, a double and a single.

The Chicago Cubs snapped their nine-game losing streak by defeating the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-1, in the major's only night game.

Might Blacktop Railway Avenue

Consideration of the blacktopping of Railway and Lowrie avenues from the end of Delta avenue to US-2 and 41 at South Gladstone is to be given this evening when the City Commission resumes its adjourned regular meeting.

At the regular meeting, a representative of Paul Miller, lower Michigan road contractor, appeared to determine if the city was interested in having any more work done before they removed their equipment from this area. Miller did considerable work on US-41 between Manistique and Rapid River the past two years.

With the equipment nearby the work could be done at lesser cost than if it had to be brought here solely for the local work, it was explained.

A cost estimate of $10,000 for a 20-foot pavement of bituminous aggregate on Railway and Lowrie was given the city.

An offer to sell the major portion of what was formerly the Ford property at the east end of the city was received by the city from the Delta Coal and Dock Co., but the matter was tabled.

Temporary permission was granted sailboat owners to use the southwest corner of the yacht harbor for mooring their craft following a rather heated discussion of boat harbor regulations in which Harbormaster Clyde Cole and several owners of sailing craft

Complete Roleo Plans; Running Will Compete

Final plans for the World's Championship Roleo and Annual Gladstone Festival to be held here on August 9-10 were made at a joint meeting of the Roleo Executive committee and the Gladstone Merchants committee Tuesday evening at the City Hall.

Plans both for the activities at the Yacht Harbor and in the business section of the city were formulated at the meeting.

Jim Running, Eau Claire, Wis., present champion, will be here to defend his title. Chairman A. B. Ellingson said, and the field of contestants promises to be one of the finest ever to participate, according to present indications, he continued.

Elimination contests in the log-rolling on the opening day, Saturday, Aug. 9, will be conducted in the morning and will be immediately followed by a full program of events and entertainment for all ages beginning at about 2:30 in the afternoon and continuing on into the evening in the downtown area.

The Merchants committee, in charge of the program on Saturday afternoon and evening will shortly have a complete schedule of activities to announce, some of which will be a water fight, pavement dance and night-shirt parade. Band music will live things during the afternoon and up to dance time.

Semi-finals and finals of the roleo will be held on Sunday.

Reports on the sale of advertising space in the Souvenir Booklet have been very gratifying to both committees, for this is indicative of the fine spirit and response plans for the gala Gladstone event of 1952 is receiving. Chairman Ellingson said. Much of the advertising sold to date has been from outside the community of Gladstone and Ellingson said the committees were grateful for the generous contributions to the festival.

Ex-Tigers Help Beat Buried Bengals, 10-3

By HARRY STAPLER
DETROIT—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers are stuck in last place in the American League but the Tigers are running ahead of the first place Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League—in attendance, that is.

The Tigers staggered to their 43rd defeat—they've won only 20—yesterday when the bats of former Tigers George Kell and Hoot Evers boomed home runs into the left field stands at Briggs stadium.

The Boston Red Sox won 10-3. The Tigers are now an uncomfortable 1½ games behind the first place New York Yankees.

Meanwhile the Dodgers cemented their first place lead in the rival league by whipping St. Louis 3-1.

Fans Stay Loyal
You'd think the Dodgers, located in the biggest population center in the country, would certainly run ahead of the Tigers in attendance in a year when the Dodgers are pennant-conscious and the Tigers are smarting from cellaritis.

But it's not so.

The Dodgers have played 29 home dates and have drawn 455,759 fans. That is an average of 15,715 each home date.

The Tigers have played 27 home dates and have drawn 442,257 fans. That's an average of 16,379 each home date.

In other words the so-called bums of the American League are drawing 664 more fans each game than the Dodgers sometimes called the Bums but this year the class of the National League.

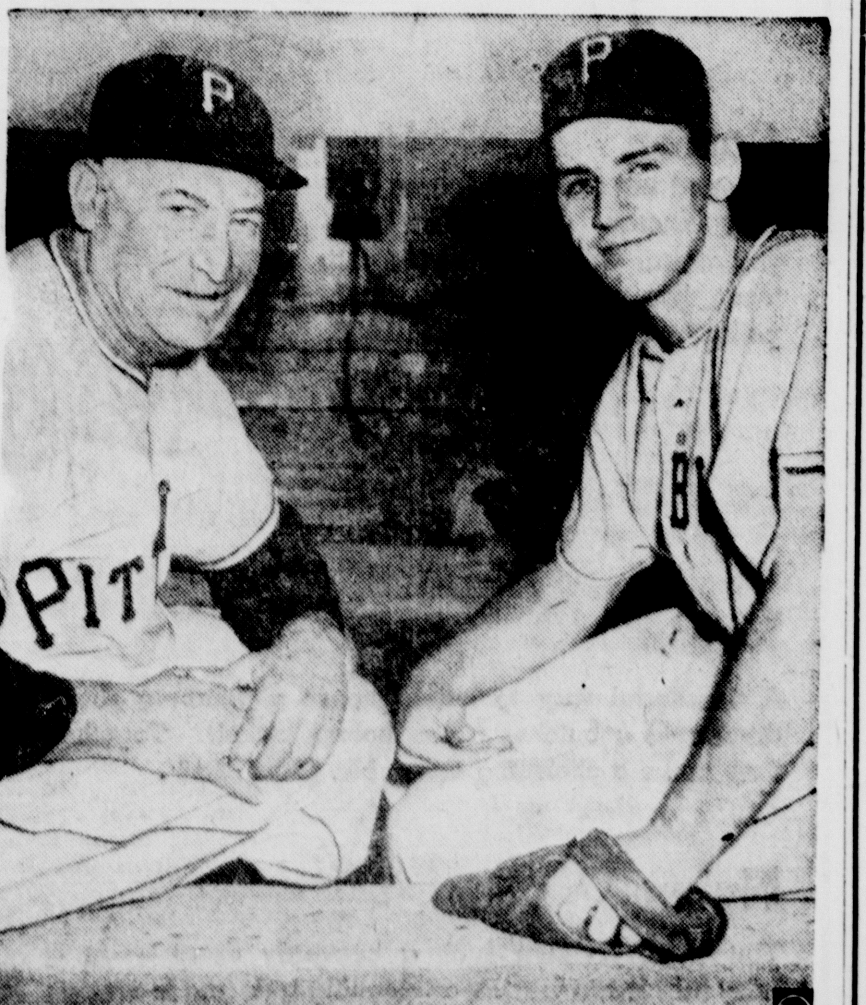

Why? Probably the Tigers' four victories before four huge crowds, Virgil Trucks' no-hitter, Art Houtteman's near no-hitter, and the giant trade with the Red Sox helped stir fan interest.

The giant trade with the Red Sox boomeranged yesterday. Kell hit a two run homer and banged a two run single and Evers blasted a one-run homer.

In St. Louis Tonight
And coupled with a six-run spree by Boston in the eighth inning, that was enough to give rookie pitched Dick Brodowski a victory and veteran Fred Hutchinson a defeat.

Both hurlers were making their Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, sticky taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.
